

Tools for Survival

Mushiba: We live in a dimension where everything we need to help us grow and strengthen, and survive, is provided ~ we often simply do not recognize them as tools for that purpose.

In his series of classes on the Search for Self ~ First Level, Waith talked about Tools for Survival:

Waith: "Remember that Planet Earth supplies you with the tools you need for survival and it is each energy who determines what is needed to survive ~ not what another would tell you to use for survival."

Survival tools are more than hammer and nails ~ indeed, if we limit our definition of tools, we close our options. The arena of healing is filled with elitism regarding Tools for Survival. Aspirin and pain modifiers are tools just as much as sending the Light. We must use what works for Self ~ and, that will be different from what works for another, for a tool is, also, an encasement for energy, and therefore, needs to Be of Service.
