Where Do Spirits Live?

I have a question about your lifestyle. Do you have a house? Do you have a building? Do you kind of meet in the open park?

Your question is most appropriate, and interesting, that it is a concern. We had not realized that there was this kind of curiosity. I find this most curious myself that you would wonder where we live, so to speak.

Understand that information that is given through this process of channelling comes in from different levels, to reach different levels on the earth plane, and that everyone on the earth plane is at different levels and can be categorized in groupings, and therefore the information needs to be geared or tailored toward their own level of understanding. Thus, to describe space to some on the earth plane necessitates the use of symbolism in order to reach their own levels of understanding as to where they are on their path, and therefore certain channelling, if you will, is designated so that it can be understood by certain groups or segments of individuals. For others, to have space described in terms of houses and buildings is far too simplistic, for their level of understanding is far greater, and thus we have other ways of translating the information through to you.

What your level of understanding is, is determined by, in your particular case, your spiritual guides who know that you do not need the symbolism that others may need to understand the far greater truths. It is complex. Know that we communicate through pure form of energy, that we do not need to be gathered together in order to have a meeting, if you will. Of course you know this. Others do not understand this. Know that I am able to communicate with many simultaneously. In fact, this is what is being done as this process, so that my words are the words of many.

Those who are in my charge, depending upon their level of advancement, are given various assignments as to how they will relate to the earth plane, for they too have their own lessons in terms of translating the information. They have much to learn, for if they were to try to be too complex they would not be of assistance. They would not Be of Service. It would be lost. People would not understand. There would be rejection of the information and the purpose would not be served, so there is much training going on here. It will depend upon your own level of understanding as to the information that will come to you.

Is There Any Connection Between Epilepsy And Psychic Abilities, Or Mediumship?

That which you refer to as epilepsy is the result of the need to balance and does not necessarily mean that if one has this particular situation that they are more psychic than others. There is not a higher percentage of psychic abilities as a result of that. What does occur with this situation is a greater ability to exist in an altered state. The condition alters the consciousness, for whatever the period of time is in, which these seizures occur. It is a balancing that is a result of an entity's not accepting their soul's ability to be psychic.

It is not quite as simple as all of that. There is much more involved in it. There are other reasons why the epileptic state occurs. It does not mean that the psychic abilities are superior or very high. It simply means that the Soul is having difficulty in accepting whatever the level is and is fighting it. It may be worked out in the lifetime. And if that were to occur, then the psychic abilities would in fact begin to make themselves evident. Usually, however, what occurs is that the entire lifetime is needed, and once the energy has left the lifetime, and upon reflection when coming across, hopefully the lesson is learned. However, in many cases it is not. The energy may then determine if in the next lifetime this condition will again manifest or some other way of balancing.

A Discussion Of Organized Religion

In the church, using the Catholic Church as an example, they are not too happy about hearing about psychic abilities. Could you please enlighten me as to why they have this way of looking at it?

They are terrified. All organized religions have a built-in self-interest for their own dogma and their desires to control and manipulate their followers. This is the function. Organized religion has as its mission to give direction to the masses, for the masses need direction. What becomes threatening is that psychic ability is a part of the spiritual. The spiritual has no organized direction for the masses. Spiritual relates strictly to the individual and the individual's responsibility for his or her own actions and not to be accountable to a church. Rather, to be accountable to themselves and to The Creator.

So the Catholic Church is not unique in their reaction. There is the danger of any belief, to become organized. When that occurs then, any outside influence that threatens the structure of that organization is condemned as the work of the so-called devil. This is what occurs. The danger is ever present that idolization begins to occur, and this is evident in the spiritual as well. What begins as a spiritual belief and concept and following, becomes an idolization and that must not be allowed.

It was a problem that occurred in Atlantis ten thousand years ago when Mushiba and I were just giving out information and discussing spiritual values, and it began to be organized. And this is not good, where you come to depend upon something or someone outside of your own self to give you the answers. This is what organized religion does, you see. It gives answers. It makes things neat and tidy. "If you do this, you will go to heaven." And, "If you do this, you will not. You will go to Hell," which, of course, does not exist as it is described in religions.

Thus, when there is a belief that you are accountable for your own behavior, and you must make your own decisions and accept responsibility for your own lessons, then this becomes a threat to the status quo. And you will find now, in this accelerated time as we approach The Shift, that the shaking up of the status quo will be more evident on a daily basis, and there will at the same time be an ever-increasing condemnation of those of you who are seeking the truth through your own path of spiritual enlightenment.

You will be targeted by those who are very frightened. You must be strong. You will be called many names. Many of you have already experienced this. Know that those who deride you are unenlightened. You may be able to diffuse the darkness that surrounds them, and you may not. However, you need only be concerned about being who you are and letting the light that surrounds you speak for itself. This will continue at an accelerated rate between now and The Shift, this condemnation. So expect more and more of it as the dividing occurs between those who are spiritual and those who are not.

Each of the organized religions has someone who they hold pretty close to The Creative Force, or to God. Like in the Christian religion, you have Christ, and then you have Mohammed and Buddha. How do these people relate to one another and how do they relate to The Creative Force, which I assume is God?

The Creative Force is whatever you would like to give as a name ~ God, of course, being the most popular on the earth plane at this time. Each religion that is now established and organized began on a spiritual belief, a base of spiritualism. If you would look back at, let us say, Jesus and the beginnings of what is now called Christianity, you would see a very different beginning than what is in existence now. This is true of all the organized religions. The tendency for energies on the earth plane is to organize and control others and to form structures in which they can manipulate and gain power over others. This is what happens and this is why I have mentioned the danger that is evident.

Now there are basically, how shall I say this, three energy forms who are responsible for the beginnings of the various organized religions that are now existing on the earth plane. These three energies have come in at the appropriate times to implant the ideas. Each of the organized religions on the earth plane now, if one were to take away all of the dogma that has developed, would find that the basic belief is a phrase known as, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." This is a very basic Universal Belief. It is lost in most religions now. You must strip away all of the dogma, and that is the thread of commonality. And these religions have been established at the appropriate time for very specific reasons to address very specific concerns on the earth plane at the time that they were brought about. So there have been three energies who have taken on this task of coming onto the earth plane, and they have done this for millennia.

During the time of Atlantis, for example, there were several organized religions that had names that would not be familiar to you all now, and in the process of cleansing the records of these were lost, and so we started again. It is done specifically for lessons to be learned by all so that in order to return to your spiritual heritage you must experience the religion and the dogma as part of lessons to be learned.

You mentioned three entities. You did not give them an earth name, so to speak. Perhaps that might help me understand what you just said. Your point of reference was not clear to me, or to perhaps others.

Indeed. The energies, the three energies, are those who are what you might refer to as the founders of those major organized religions now operating on the earth plane. The Catholic being Jesus, as the example ~ the Buddha, and these energies came in, in specific material form. You must realize that they are of The One, and that they separate from The Creator for this very specific purpose.

It is also true that they separate from The Creator and incarnate in lesser life forms for themselves so that they can experience creature life?

They have no need to do that, my dear, for they have done it. They come in for very specific teaching. They have no need for lessons to be learned. They have learned. They are One. They come in to teach.

Did they ever have to learn?

Yes. They had lessons to be learned at levels that were much higher than any you would understand. They did not ever have to come onto the earth plane.

When you say that they are One, do you mean that they are completely at One with The Creative Force?

They are One with The Creator, and they separate from, by choice, by mission. Their mission is of the very Highest. And if you will refer to the discussions that we gave to you during our last session, in understanding the role of Oneness, know that you all come in at separate levels, and it is a very complex issue. And I am now aware that this is something that we must talk about at greater length perhaps in one session. I am aware that my group, and all those with whom I gather my information now, realize the complexity, and we ourselves must regroup in order to present this to you at a more understandable level. This is our mission, and I cannot emphasize this enough to you. My concern is that we are able to give you the information that you will understand. Know that the complexities are tremendous. So I will, at this moment, cease the discussion of this particular issue so that we will address this in the future now that we have, shall I say, plugged into your energies and your concerns. We will map out our strategy, if you will.

Is It True That Each Of Us Has A Purpose In Life?

Yes. It is true in its simplest form. There is a purpose for coming in. The purpose may be to do nothing. This is true. The purpose may be to not learn any lessons and to not teach and to not do anything. This in itself is a purpose. The Soul does not advance nor does it regress. It simply comes in to play. It is true.

There are lifetimes in which, what you might refer to as rest and relaxation occur, and this is very acceptable, for remember that it is you, the energy, who decides what you want to do. And if you want to spend a lifetime not going anywhere, that is fine. It is beneficial, quite often, for that to occur. Tremendous energy drain can occur with some entities who attempt to move along at a rapid rate lifetime after lifetime, and so it is a purpose. Others come in with very specific issues to be resolved. They may or may not resolve them. Some souls come in with several missions, what might be looked at as a series of missions ~ one dependent upon the other ~ come in with one particular mission, and if that is accomplished then the next mission occurs, and then the next, and the next, and the next, etc. Others come in with one very specific mission, and everything that is done relates to that mission.

There are many options open to you. You work with guides at this level to help you to make your decision. We, on occasion, will approve or disapprove of what you want to do. We are not always allowing just random events. Many times we do, knowing that the mission will not be accomplished. However, other lessons that need to be learned as a result of not accomplishing the mission will be learned. You see?

So our mission can change in life periodically?

Yes, it can.

Gaining Information From Sources, As Those By Ruth Montgomery, and Ramtha

I have been reading and trying to gain information and understanding. However, I am confused by the amount of literature out there and unable to sort out the truth from the false. Several of the books that I have read are by an author by the name of Ruth Montgomery. I wondered if you knew of that author, or if you could guide me in my reading?

This is a most complex issue. The ability to differentiate between that which is good, and that which is not, is part of your soul's mission, each of you, what we might call a mini mission.

The energy you refer to as Ruth Montgomery is receiving information from this side from very high energies. They are under the command, if you will, of one of the other Archangels. They are not under my wing. It is a very good channelling that is occurring and there is much beneficial information coming through and reaching certain groups of energies. That relates to what I had said earlier regarding the awareness levels of people and serves as a starting point for many on the earth plane who are seeking spiritual awareness, and they read this information and it triggers soul memories. It triggers more questions and the seeking of knowledge. It gives a common ground of discussion with many and can serve to be an indicator of another energy's interest. So, for example, if you meet someone and you begin to talk about books that you have read and someone tells you that they are reading one of Ruth Montgomery's books, you will know that this is an individual with whom you can discuss things, for their interests are somewhat aligned with yours. Those who do not have a spiritual orientation would disregard anything written by this entity.

You will know, as you begin to grow, each of you, what is the right information for you and what is not. Remember, this cannot be stressed enough that the information that comes to you is what you need to hear or read. It will help you in whatever specifics you need to learn about. Whether it regards differentiating between that which is beneficial and that which is not, it opens the door for you to seek out others to help you in your evaluations and to find a level that is comfortable for you. There is information available that many of you would find difficult to understand and would feel uncomfortable about because it is geared toward a Higher Level of understanding.

And the goal that you would have is to just continue to reach. And what you might read now that you would disregard and say, "This is not for me," may change as you begin to grow and to change yourself. And what is not applicable to you now, or what seems to be far too complex, would in fact become more understandable as you begin to assimilate the Universal Truths.

Can you tell me if there are things in print that are done by entities that are under your guidance?

Ramtha is under my guidance. That is one who I will reveal at this time. That is all that you need to know at that point. There are several others who will also become known. There are many, many others who will not gain acknowledgement ~ they are working in their own small way to Be of Service. These are throughout the earth plane currently and will accelerate. I have many here who are waiting for the opportunity to speak, and it will be specific, you see, for certain groups of people depending upon the levels and depending upon the needs.

That really confuses me because I heard Ramtha, and he was telling people that there was no God outside ourselves, and that we are God. And that is contradictory.

Why do you find this contradictory?

Is there not a Creative Force, a Creator?

Of course.

We are part of the energy. However, we are not The Creative Force.

You are. You are The Creative Force. You are directly connected to The Creative Force. And you have, each of you, all of you, all of us, are The Creator. The use of the word God is so that those of you can understand at a symbolic level something that is very complex. You see, those energies that have become One have simply gone back to The Source. We are all The Source. We have simply separated, have not lost the connection. There is a very ~ you might imagine a very thin thread.

Is God A Personality In Himself?

No, my dear. What you think of as personality are manifestations of energies that have come from The Source. You think of Jesus, for example, and you think of personality and therefore ascribe that to The Creator. Know that with Oneness, personality no longer exists. This is a Universal Concept that is most difficult for you to understand, especially at the earth plane level. When you come out of the earth plane you have a better understanding of Creativity, although it takes a certain level of advancement to understand it completely, you see. There is a very distorted view of what is called God that has come from organized religion. Organized religion has attempted to make God a person. This is done for very good reasons. It is done to help people on the earth plane to progress and to be aware in their progression of a Creative Force.

It is very difficult for energies to accept the fact that they are indeed The Creative Force, and that whatever you do in some way has a direct connection with every other energy. That includes The Animal Kingdom. That includes The Plant Kingdom. When you step on an insect, it affects the entire Creative Force. You are, in effect, stepping on yourself. When you eat, it affects the entire Creative Force.

It is difficult for a finite mind to comprehend love that is not coming from a personality.

This is true. This is why we do not get into this subject. There are very specific reasons why The Creative Force has been presented in the way it has been over the eons. It is all part of the evolution of your soul, and that as you become more spiritually attuned, you become aware of the greater picture, so to speak. You become so attuned that you know, you feel the ripple effect, we might say, upon all.

Is that what psychic awareness is?

Yes. It is a part of it.

If each entity is part of The Creative Force, and God, or The Creative Force, when He created everything, created so much, can we say that all these entities now are how The Creative Force is experiencing what he created?

That is a simple way of stating it, though quite accurate.

So The Creative Force is experiencing reality through Creation, in simple terms. It is not simple to me.

Yes.

Earth did not come into existence by itself, so there must have been higher vibrations that started it, Earth being one of billions of planets. I am using it for an example since it is where we live. Something started it, and it had to be extremely high vibrations.

There was no beginning and there will be no end. It cannot be explained to you. It is far too complex. There are some of you here who do understand it. The majority of you do not. You will understand it as you begin to increase your own Spiritual Centers ~ to raise yourselves through the meditative process. You will gain the insight to understand. You see, the limitations are that you want something to begin. You are unable to comprehend that this does not occur. There is no beginning and there is no end. This is a subject that I again am going to, in conjunction with the others, we will attempt in some way to bring this down to your level. I cannot guarantee when this will occur. It is something that we have tried through other sources to explain. However, it is difficult.

Being An Archangel, And Living As A Person, Or Manifesting In Form

Is your being an Archangel ~ again, it was my understanding through religion that Angels never lived on this earth. They are in force in heaven, as it was said, and never did have a body. You tell us that you have lived as a person. Could you possibly explain?

Yes. I have explained this in other sessions and it is available in the readings that you can avail yourselves of. Know that the information that you are receiving from organized religions is based on their own perceptions, and not knowing everything, for they do not know, and that which they did know, they have obscured, for they do not want the masses to have an understanding of certain spiritual beliefs.

What you must realize is that we of The Angelic Force, for reasons that would be incomprehensible to you, came from The Source at a certain level that is much Higher than others. We all came from a source and came at different levels. We of The Angelic Force have the option of coming on the earth plane. We come in to teach. We have no lessons to learn on the earth plane, and we of The Angelic Force have chosen at times to do just this, to come in.

My specific situations were such that I came in to help Mushiba. She has been my special mission for one million years. It was our mission to bring her into The Angelic Force, and there have been times when we determined that I needed to be in physical form in order to help in the progression. She is very unhappy about the earth plane. From one million years ago, she fought me on this. "I do not want to come on the earth plane," she would say to me. And the only way that I could convince her was by coming in occasionally and helping her out. When this is done I, and others of The Angelic Force, can come in through the normal process of birth and go through what appears to those around, a normal existence.

Know that when an Angel comes onto the earth plane they are very aware of who they are, and they can come and go as they please, in terms of leaving the body and doing something at this end that needs to be attended to, and then returning back to the body ~ that sort of thing. We also are able to simply materialize, if you will, and have done this throughout time. There are currently some of The Angelic Force on the earth plane now who have simply arrived, some through the process of what is referred to as walk-ins, which is one of the options, and others simply materialize. You see, we have the powers to do many things that you cannot even comprehend. We take on whatever form we feel is necessary.

I have taken on many different roles with Mushiba, male and female, for the express purpose of not only helping her to learn what she needs to learn so that she becomes an Archangel eventually, for this has been determined, but to assist in the teaching of certain beliefs, and the understanding, and this is the reason why I now speak in this form. This is a new way in which we are working together. We have not done this. The work that we do, we have done many other times together though not in this particular form, this particular way. We determined that it would be a nice way to do it as opposed to my just coming in. It is for very specific reasons, understand, that relate to the Soul path of Mushiba

This has been a most enjoyable session for all of us. And some of the group, and those specific six who surround Mushiba, are already, if you might visualize, huddling to work out a plan of presentation. Know that this is for lessons for them to learn. And they are quite excited over the opportunity that has been presented to them, just as you each are excited when a lesson comes your way, to know that by tackling this it will help you to grow. This is true at this level, and it is an opportunity, and they are most anxious to be able to translate to you in a way in which you will have a far greater understanding. And once the understanding increases, your growth toward Oneness becomes greater, and that is what we are all here for.
