There Are Many Different Kingdoms Having Distinct Responsibilities, With Much Order
(March 29, 1988)

There are many kingdoms, each having distinct responsibilities for various planes, and the developments that occur on those planes, the earth plane being only one of many hundreds of thousands of planes. The number is overwhelming for understanding for most. The earth plane has its own set of developments, and the energy forms who were charged with its development are headed by Amelius, as the energy form has been named. I report directly to Amelius.

There are times when you have all asked for information regarding someone whom you love or someone of whom you would like to know their whereabouts, their safety, or whatever. There are times, and there will be many other times coming, when the particular energy form of whom you speak is under the jurisdiction of another kingdom, and therefore I must make connections with my counterpart in another kingdom.

It is all very ordered here, and every plane has an order to it, a kingdom. All the kingdoms are connected. We are not separate from each other. We simply have different orders depending on the plane. Some of the planes are in lower vibrations. We have spoken of The Animal Kingdom that is one of those kingdoms, The Plant Kingdom, and other planes that you also will go to in learning and making your way toward The Creative Force. You can go from one kingdom to the other. You do not need a passport, so to speak.

When you have completed a particular experience on the earth plane, you can go into another plane at a parallel level, and therefore be a part of another hierarchy of order. When you come onto the earth plane you are under the guidance and protection of myself and all those charged with me. It is quite logical, and as you ascend in a particular plane to higher levels you then will go into higher levels in other kingdoms that correspond to the level that you currently are in, and the ascension continues until you are One.

Amelius, charged with the overseeing of the earth plane, has the ability to merge with The Creator and to reemerge. And all those in other kingdoms that are his counterpart, for He is a male energy, this particular one ~ Amelius, ~ also have this ability to merge. We refer to Him as a male energy, for a female part has another role. They are One, but separate, just as all energy forms have a counterpart, and for clarification from this end, in our explanations to you of Universal Laws, we have found it easier for your understanding to refer to the male and female, to make that distinction, thus use of the male gender.

He is with us now in the vibration, and there is much rejoicing at the acceleration of advancement that is occurring on the earth plane, this in spite of what many may feel to be true. He has joined us. It is always so beyond what words can describe. You see, language is so limiting ~ what His vibration does when it is here as it is now. He has very close connections with several of the vibrations that are here now, and there is a renewing.

He is most beautiful. He is requesting that all of you, in your efforts to raise the attunements, take this time that approaches that represents time He spent on the wooden crucifix, this time period, and that you take this time to meditate in whatever form has become comfortable for you. Do not speak or engage in any activities, and as you spend this time in your meditations alone with your own consciousness, visualize Light and keep in your mind the phrase, "He is of the Highest Light", and continue thinking this phrase throughout your meditations, "He is of the Highest Light." And from now until you leave the earth plane, each of you, and those who will read the transcript of this information, should do this on the anniversary of this celebration each time it occurs. And as your vibration increases, so too will its effect upon those around you have as you meditate each anniversary.

Do All The Kingdoms Have Varying Degrees Of Light And Dark?

(April 05, 1988)

All the energy forms of the varying kingdoms. Indeed. That in itself is a topic of much time, for I have only begun to continue in this discussion of energy forms and kingdoms and all that. However, let me address one particular area here, and that is that yes, each kingdom has its dark and Light and its energy forms that are vibrant and its energy forms that are not. Just as you, on the earth plane, have higher energy forms attempting to enlighten you and to help you along your own paths toward growth, so too do all of the kingdoms, at whatever level, be they lower than you, or of course, higher than you, for there are many, many that are much higher than the earth plane. When you speak specifically of the plants and the trees, they can be aided by higher energy forms to help them evolve. They are not able to evolve in the way in which you all evolve for they are at a lower level. They have their own path and their own degrees of attunements.

When you become a part of what is considered a higher energy form to them, and a part of helping them, just as we here attempt to help lower energy forms, attuned forms, vibrational forms, in a spirit of total and complete service, so too can you give this to nature, as you would call it. If you have a tree or a plant that appears to be dying, it may simply be that it is lacking in the right energies. The power of your own attunement being higher could in fact get the energies of the plant or the tree back in line with what it should be by sending Light to it, by sending love to it, nurturing, infusing your own energies, and by infusing your own energies it will help in the evolvment of that particular energy form.

When I first arrived for this session, my suggestion of having a plant or vegetable or some living form was meant specifically to help many of you to use the abilities that you have and to awaken in many of you a sense of responsibility to life around you in whatever form it takes.

I am going to have to give some extra energy to the Japanese beetles this summer.

They all have a place.

Yes. I will give some roses to them, and some for me.

That is fine, you see. That is. It is in keeping with the way in which one would try to evolve in consciousness. That is proper. You are sharing until there is reached a point of total evolvement on an energy's part. For example, this insect evolves to the point where it no longer needs to destroy, and it then evolves into a higher life form. This is what occurs. You see? But it happens one by one, as it happens to humans. As humans destroy each other, so too do others of other kingdoms destroy each other until they have reached a level of attunement where they evolve into a higher form, and their consciousness is such that they do not destroy those of lower levels.

The total effect, though, for those of you on the earth plane, for many of you, is not seen. You do not see the larger picture, that while there may be five hundred thousand of these insects eating and destroying, there may in fact be one that has evolved and is therefore no longer a part of that destruction. That is how the system eventually cleanses itself. Just as each of you begin to stop eating animals, it is one less who does this at that particular level and that particular kingdom. For many though, they are unable to see the broader picture. There are several of you here though who are seeing it now as we describe it.

Waith, what would the beetle become in a higher energy form?

There are many opportunities. It is really not the point except that it evolves into a different form that no longer has a desire to consume particular life forms. But when it goes into the next level, it has a whole other set of life forms that it would consume, you see. It is only when a very high level of attunement is reached that there is no desire to consume any life forms.

Does that include plant form, too?

Yes, it does.

There can be a state that is reached by those on the earth plane in human form where the consciousness is such that there is no need to consume. There have been many who have reached this, and it simply means that they are at the end of their progression in that particular kingdom and are ready to move into a much higher level. It takes many, many manifestations on the earth plane to reach that level. There are many among you in your daily lives, and those who you see in the media, who have attained that level. They simply do not discuss it, for most who reach that level, do not discuss it. You will observe that you do not see them consume.

There are many who are, because of the accelerated time in which you have all chosen to manifest, are rapidly approaching a level of nonconsumption. Most who will find that this level of nonconsumption reaches a certain point, and they put a halt to it for this lifetime and choose to continue it in the next one, coming in at a level of nonconsumption, if you will, and finishing the task. It is a very tremendous spiritual achievement to reach and requires a great deal of work, a great number of testings. It is not an easy path.

Most of you in this gathering will achieve a particular level of nonconsumption, but most of you have chosen other types of lessons that need to be attended to and will be able, though, in future incarnations, to come in at the level at which you leave in your nonconsumption. It is part of the advantage of coming in at this accelerated time. You must not place pressure on yourselves in thinking that you must do a certain thing in order to advance. Recognize that there is no condemnation that is given if you eat animal, for example. It is simply the acknowledgement of a level of attunement and that you are where you need to be and that you are all part of the process.

As we evolve through eternity and experience The Creation in an infinite number of ways, it is so tremendous, it is so big, that we are never going to get there. 😊 We are going to get there, closer, and closer each time, but we keep talking about the purpose of life that we have here. But God's Creation is so large that if we are to experience it and become One with Him, it is just going to go on forever and ever and ever and ever. Is that true?

You speak the truth. There will be no end and yet there will be Oneness. It is difficult to comprehend by many, the vastness of it all.

Isn't that where we started, though, Waith?

There is no beginning and there is no end. Yet there will be Oneness.

Wasn't there a point when we separated from The Creative Force?

It is used as a symbol for understanding.

But it did not actually happen?

It is beyond the scope of how we would want to explain it at this time. What we are here to do is, as I have explained before, is, in our best attempts, to explain in simple terms very complex issues. This of course being one of humankind's neverending questions, and we are attempting to gather the kinds of information that would enable us to explain it in a way in which it would have some clarity to a number of you. We are not able at this point to relate that information into terms that even some of the most advanced of you would be able to understand. It will come in time, but the point being that there is always evolution. There are always lessons to be learned at whatever level one happens to have attained.

Those on the earth plane see things in a very narrow perspective, for it is the purpose of manifestation on the earth plane to have a narrowness so that very specific types of lessons can be learned. So, most of you, and those around, will have very limited visions, and that is by design. And as you move out of the earth plane and into a higher over-view of the earth plane, you will have a better understanding so that when you come back, in you will, hopefully come in with a level of higher understanding. And each time this occurs, you progress somewhat. It takes hundreds and hundreds of lifetimes to reach on the earth plane even a level of attunement that would in fact help to alter the state of consciousness. You are all at varying levels of consciousness.

Many of you are developing your abilities to alter your state of consciousness through meditations and therefore to go within yourselves and to find the answers. We are not here, as I have said many times, to give you answers. You cannot get the answers from any source outside of yourself. These answers to your own evolvment will come from within. It will be something from within. For example, it will say to you, "I will not eat a particular thing, I will not consume something." This may not be animal. For example, you may want to rid yourself of one of the bindings of the earth plane, many things such as ~

Chocolate. 😊

Chocolate. Yes indeed, that does seem to be a very popular addiction. That is an example, you see. You must realize that you will all have these, what you might call addictions, to overcome.

Those Of The Human Kingdom Are Simply One Of Many Kingdoms In The Universe (August 16, 1988)

I have said this so often, and will continue to bring it up, that those of The Human Kingdom are simply one of many kingdoms in The Universe, one very infinitesimal kingdom, and all of the kingdoms, all of the dimensions, all are connected. You are all The Creative Force. Creative Force is not one soul energy. It is not what you think of God. It is not one person. It is the consciousness of all, The Creative Force. You all are The Creative Force.

We are all connected to each other. What you do truly affects others and truly affects yourself. And while you may not see the results of your behavior in a concrete manner in this lifetime or in many future lifetimes, know that everything that you do affects you, as well as the whole. It will return to you, and in the Universal message that has come through in every organized religion that has been on the earth plane in the past, currently, and in the future, states the same Universal Truth, THAT WHICH YOU GIVE OUT, YOU WILL RECEIVE BACK.

This is Universal, and understand the impact of that Universal Truth that it is much more than simply being nice to someone, and thinking that if you are nice to someone, then they will be nice to you, or if you give of your possessions to someone, that you will receive tenfold back. This is a part of it. This is the earth plane application to it.

Realize that your every thought affects The Universal Consciousness, affects The Creative Force, and as you unite in your love with each other, it creates a most beautiful front, shall we say, and it creates such strength. It is why we have now suggested that the time is right for what we would call these community gatherings, and it is so important now that you begin to do some meditations with each other, be they in a group, or just among a few of you, to gather at some time other than when you come here.

We were, of course, observing with tremendous joy the interaction that was occurring before my entry in for this session ~ that there is so much love being generated among you all. There is so much Light and vibrancy and that you are forming the core of a very large community that will begin to manifest itself from your example, from the type of behavior that you all have in your own understandings of what I have presented to you this evening.

And your example and your knowledge that goes along with the example to others will begin to help in The Universal Consciousness, to help in the understanding of the connectedness. Every energy is connected to each other forming the One. And those who have gone before you, who have learned all that they need to learn, are the One, and you are each connected to that. That is The Creative Force, and you, being connected, can communicate if you allow yourself to, directly to The Creative Force, directly. You do not need me! I would not want you to not want me 😊 but you do not need me!

Who Am I To Decide That A Weed Must Go And A Vegetable Plant Can Stay? (August 23, 1988)

It is all a part of the grand scheme of things. It is part of the learning. Who has any right to decide anything at a Universal Level? However, remember that it is a part of the lesson of the plant that, for example, the plant would incarnate into your particular environment knowing that you are at a certain level. 😊

The Kingdoms Change As Lead Entities Change (September 12, 1989)

I am confused about the kingdoms and about which kingdom I am part of. Are we all a part of Amelius' kingdom?

All in the Community of Terra Lux are a part of The Kingdom of Amelius.

And we always will be and we always have been?

No. You must understand that the kingdoms were not always and always will be. Kingdoms always are and always will be. However, those who head up the kingdoms form the illusion according to their own tasks, and thus it is that The Kingdom of Amelius now is in existence, and as soon as the entities who have come out of the Lead Energy field under Amelius' tutelage have completed what they need to complete, they will take over The Kingdom of Amelius and form their own kingdom. They are currently finishing up, these Lead Entities, and thus there will be a new kingdom.

There is much to understand about the kingdoms, and we have given some preliminary information and we will, of course, be, as time progresses on the plane, giving more information as it is needed. Much of it is not even needed to be known, does not affect your manifestations on the plane. It affects your manifestations only in that the illusions that are created by the Lead Entities ~ Amelius in this case ~ are balanced with all the entities who are part of the kingdom. There will be a very different illusion once the trainees have taken over and become the Lead Entity as Amelius and he is able to go on to other things.

The Five Kingdoms All Communicate And Work Toward The Same Goal

Could it get confusing for an entity that has left and that essence is from Amelius' Kingdom, but yet those of the earth plane are calling upon another kingdom to help that one through? Could there be a confusion there?

There is no confusion, my love. The kingdoms, of which there are five in the current illusion, all communicate, and even though there are distinct kingdoms, they all work toward the same goal, and thus it is that there is an interchanging and help that occurs, and there is, because of The Universal Consciousness, an infinite and continuous connection, you see. And if Amelius must deal with someone from another kingdom, that is easily achieved, as if someone from Amelius' kingdom were to call upon another, that is also, for all is of the good, the heads of The Kingdoms.

All Energy Coming Out Of The One Can Become Energy In Any Kingdom, Including Crystal
(June 26, 1990)

And since there is eternity here, you see, energies can do anything that they so choose to do, and that once you have as an energy decided what you want to do, you leave The One and you go on in that path, and when you have completed that, you return back to The One. And as we have said before, you are in The One, and you get a little bored and so you decide to come back out again and do something else. Well, there is the opportunity to, at some time in eternity, have been a crystal, have been a plant, have been grass.

Ants, too?

Ants, too. The bug kind. ☺ Now, for many currently encased within The Human Experience there is the arrogance, of course, that is a part of the illusion and a part of the lessons that need to be worked through as part of this particular path, that would say, "Huh! Who does Waith think he is saying that at some other time I was a crystal?" We simply indicate that the opportunity is there to take on form in any way. However, understand that for each of the changes in form, you must go through a particular path, return to The One, and then go back into another form.

So, for example, it is very common for The Animal Kingdom to ~ an energy to evolve into the highest state of The Animal Kingdom and then, if it would want to, the energy can move into The Human Kingdom at the beginning level of The Human Kingdom Experience. However, in order to do that it means that once fulfillment of that particular path has been achieved, there is a return to The One.

So, for example, as we have indicated, Mushiba's faithful energy companion, Barnabus, has reached the final stage of The Animal Kingdom and has indicated that he wants to experience The Human Kingdom. However, this means that his energy returns to The One, and then there is a readjustment, and the energy now having completed the perfection of that path, now has the choice of either returning to do something else or to stay in The One, and that choice is given at the completion of a particular path, and in this particular instance, he has said that he will return into The Human Kingdom.

Now, crystals, you see, are simply another encasement for energy. Many would accept moving encasements as energy. However, to think of that which you would call inanimate as having life is a difficult concept for many. A crystal, just as each of you take on various encasements over a series of incarnations with very specific lessons to learn, and very specific lessons to teach, and their purpose, as is your purpose, is to Be of Service, and they also have the same cycle of lesson learning that we have described ~ that four-phase cycle ~ and so too, do all energies that come on out of The One and onto a training ground.

There are a number of you in this gathering, in this vibration, who have millennia ago done The Crystal Game, as you might refer to it. And if you have, my loves, understand that it gives you a greater sensitivity to crystals. It gives you a greater understanding. It gives you a heightened awareness and an ability to communicate with a crystal, for you have been on that path. Also, you may have a crystal who has a strong vibration, and you sense something very powerful in a crystal. The possibilities are that that crystal has already done The Human Experience.

The Issue Of Judging An Energy From Another Kingdom (June 26, 1990)

And so, you see, we get back to this whole thing again about judging encasements, for you know not what an encasement is and what it has been, for you may have a crystal in your hand, and this crystal may have actually been in The Angelic Force millennia ago and completed The Angelic Mission, returned to The One, got bored and came out again. So, it is all great, great fun. You see? And thus, do not take yourselves so seriously, that, "Oh, this is it!" you see. And if you are not nice to a crystal, and you think not nice things about a crystal, that may be your destiny. ☺ Understand, however, that the same thing can occur with crystals. If they think not nice things about humans, that can become their destiny.

For understand, that all of the encasements that are available in The Universe, and all of the illusions and the training grounds are available for millennia, for eternity, and there are a number of you who are able to connect with your soul memories to the point of being with The One and knowing that The One is indeed the bliss. It is perfection. But understand that perfection is only a temporary state. For true growth to occur, once the height of perfection in a particular area has been achieved, one then wants to achieve in other areas and achieve perfection in other areas. And thus it is that you have that opportunity. And thus it is that, as each of you grows and strengthens through millennia, the total consciousness of The Universe strengthens, and the total vibration increases, for all are connected. All are connected. Most beautiful.

And thus, when you step on a blade of grass, think back, or think forward, and understand that being stepped on as a blade of grass is a part of the path of learning of lessons to be taught and lessons to be learned, for there are higher entities who, in their perceptions of human, would perceive it in much the same way as you would a blade of grass. And thus, you too, as the human encasement, could be stepped upon in simply the normal course of going about the energy's business, if you will. As you would run across the grass, so too might a higher form of energy be running across you. You see?

That is a very lighthearted thought. ☺

Yeah. We thought so! You have to view this with humor, for, you know, understand that a good deal of our mission in this very limited time with you in the illusion is to help you to be lighthearted, and to understand that everything that happens is meant to happen for growth, and that there are no judgements, and that you need to do what you do, and that your beliefs are important to you at that point in the path in which you find yourselves, you see, and that despite all of the seriousness while you are experiencing the difficulty, when you have learned it, you feel light. You feel lighthearted and you say, "I knew that" you see. ☺

Waith Talks About Levels Of Attainment Within Each Of The Different Kingdoms (December 04, 1990)

In The Animal Kingdom, Do They Have Their Own Form Of Angelics?

Understand that in each of The Kingdoms ~ Animal, Mineral, Vegetable, Human, not necessarily in that order ~ there are levels, and within the structure of The Universe there is order to those levels, and there are, therefore, levels of attainment within each of the kingdoms.

That which is referred to as The Angelics is not of a particular kingdom but rather of the general kingdom, the overall kingdom, and thus it is that The Human Kingdom, for example, does not have a level of Angelics. However, once you have achieved completion within the arena that is designated for The Human Kingdom, you then have eligibility to advance into The Angelic Kingdom. It is in and of itself a kingdom, you see, though accessible to any who would choose it, as is all the kingdoms. You all can go into any of the kingdoms and move through in any way that you would want, though most entities do not choose to go into many kingdoms. They may choose only one or two kingdoms and then move into, if they so choose, The Angelic Kingdom.

Understand that The Angelic Kingdom does not signify special, or elite, or any, is not to be given any type of honor as you might think. We are no different than any of the other entities in any of the other kingdoms. We all have our lessons to learn, our path to follow, and within each kingdom there are very defined types of tasks to accomplish, and so it is in The Angelic Kingdom. We have certain duties assigned to us. We are defenders. We are protectors. We are guides.

So, you see, in The Animal Kingdom, you might find an entity in that kingdom who is gentle, and of what you might call Angelic qualities, and it simply is an indication of a level of attainment that that entity has achieved and that it may indeed be eligible to move into The Angelics, you see. Now, within The Angelics we encompass many entities who have gone through many different training grounds and kingdoms, as well as entities who start out and only are in The Angelic Kingdom. This is also going to be presented, as time progresses, in advanced information. We truly have given elementary information during these four years on the plane.

There Is No Energy In Any Kingdom Better Than Another (August 06, 1991)

Because you are of The Human Kingdom now does not make you superior. No kingdom is superior over another. This is a very common misconception, not just on the earth plane but even in spirit, for as the lessons are learned and the enlightenments increase and the awarenesses become greater of The One, it becomes clearer that there is no energy in any kingdom better than another.

There Is No Order To Entry Into Kingdoms ~ There Is No Lower Order ~ There Is Simply Order (August 06, 1991)

It is a most humbling fact for many energies, especially in particular kingdoms, and as we have indicated before, there is no order to that entry into kingdoms that one would take, that one would be a plant, and when you finish with that kingdom you would move into animal, and when you finish with that, you would move into human, or mineral, or whatever. There is no higher order. There is no lower order. There is simply order within the kingdom.

And thus, The Human Kingdom has as part of its learning scenario set-up to have certain awarenesses blocked of its equality with other kingdoms. And thus, it is set up that energies coming into The Human Kingdom initially think that they are superior to all other energies and that indeed only they of The Human Kingdom have the ability to think, to what-you-would-say make decisions, to have an indication of what has been and what will be, as well as what is in the present.

This is purposely given out for The Human Kingdom, this sense of superiority. The humbling fact, however, is that a blade of grass, a grain of sand, a drop of water, the carpet on which you find yourselves now, all have the same abilities. It is just not as you know it, for all energy has as its prime directive to Be of Service. Now, how that service takes its form is not known totally to you, my dear ones. It is known totally only by The Universal Consciousness, total awareness. And any of us outside of The Universal Consciousness do not have that total, complete awareness.

You said that all kingdoms are equal in energy, so when we incarnate, do we start at one kingdom and progress to another, or do we incarnate into the others as we choose?

There is no order in which one must move from kingdom to kingdom. There can be, for example, the decision made by an energy form to work only within one kingdom, and one kingdom alone, and then return to The One. Others may decide after they have done one or two kingdoms that they want to do more. What occurs is simply this ~ upon coming out of The One an energy decides to go into a kingdom. Once entry into that kingdom has been achieved, incarnation occurs only within that kingdom until the time of completion of the lessons that that particular kingdom has to offer has been completed. At that point, the energy moves out of the kingdom and has the decision to either go into another kingdom to reflect and decide whether they want to go back into The One, or to simply move about and in spirit for a while until a definite decision, if you will, has been made.

Now. There is no order. There is no kingdom that is a progression of the other. This is a most difficult concept for those of The Human Kingdom, encased in The Human Kingdom, to understand, for it has been a part of the programming that has led many to believe, in The Human Kingdom, that they are highly evolved from another species. This is not correct in the way it is viewed on the plane currently, which is about to change.

This is part of our reason for being here during this time frame, to begin to present new understandings of awarenesses that will present themselves in The New Illusion ~ difficult to understand by many ~ at this point in their path. It is easier to understand as time progresses. However, it simply means that one kingdom has its own set of lessons to be learned, and another kingdom has its own set of lessons to be learned, and all kingdoms, however, are to Be of Service to each other, regardless of what their mission as a kingdom might be.

There are some, for example, who have chosen to incarnate into The Human Kingdom, and when they have finished with The Human Kingdom, upon reflection, decide that they would like to see what it would be like to become part of The Animal Kingdom or The Mineral Kingdom. And thus, energy, the energy that is the essence of that which you would call yourself, has the freedom to move from kingdom to kingdom without any designation as to one being superior over another.

It is simply that once you go into a kingdom there is an order of progression through that kingdom. However, you are not able to, while still in The Human Kingdom ~ let us say, this incarnation you are human, and then you decide you want to be a butterfly in the next lifetime, and you go into a butterfly encasement. That is not possible. You must have completed all the assignments that you take on for a particular kingdom before moving into another.

Do We Collectively, The Plants And Everything, Form Our Own Planet On A Daily Basis?
(August 18, 1991)

It is a question that relates to The Oneness, and all are One. We continually emphasize this point, that all are One, all are connected. No matter what any of us do, in some way it affects the entire Universal Consciousness, at some ~ in some way, however small. But, all energy, regardless of encasement, is here to Be of Service to each other, and therefore, if you walk on a blade of grass, you walk on energy. You walk on an encasement. However, its purpose is to Be of Service.

A Question Concerning Kingdoms, Logos, Rays And Color Associated With It
(December 03, 1991)

I have a question concerning kingdoms and logos and rays. Are all of these the same? What is the ray of Amelius? Does that have a color associated with it, and how does that equate to Logos?

They all essentially are the same, my son. As we have indicated so often, when a question is directed to us using a specific earth plane term, we often pause to search the frame of reference, for each of the energy groupings that make up The Flow of The Universe use, in their transmission through the dimensions, different words, different vocabulary, all having, of course, the end meaning, which is the same. Thus, the reason for, in many cases, a sense of confusion.

When we, for example, make reference to the five kingdoms, it is the same concept as what you hear and refer to as the rays. There is much that we have not given, nor has been given from other sources at spirit level, describing what you might call the hierarchy of The Universe, for it is not necessary for that specific information to be on the plane, for it would only create an attention on form rather than on process, as you would call it.

When you refer to color, we, again, come into this arena of definition and perception, for color is an energy, is a vibration that, from our end, has no substance, as you will. It is all simply energy. As it comes onto the earth plane dimension, it takes on a form. And, once again, there is oftentimes a great deal of attention given to the form rather than what it represents. Thus, in our coming time frame on the earth plane of this year, as it is referred to, we will be attempting to smooth out in certain areas the issues on the earth plane that relate to identification with form, and working with color and sound, for example, in form that will best translate then into the vibrational aspect of what that form actually means.

It is always best, my son, when you have a confusion in terms or definition, as you were presenting in your question, that you ask for clarification, for as we continue to emphasize, you will receive information from many, many, many sources, and it is your responsibility to then synthesize that information and apply it to that which feels comfortable for Self, and oftentimes, this means, however, seeking out those on the plane, and also those not on the plane, who could guide you in determining where the process or the concept fits within the restrictions of that which is form.

Of what ray is Amelius?

It is not important for that information to be discussed, for he is one of five who has the responsibilities of a kingdom, and ray and kingdom are the same. And, again, to put emphasis on which one he is from serves no real, or significant, purpose. It is only that he, along with four other counterparts, if you will, are charged with the orderly Flow of The Universal Consciousness's path in creating illusion.

Is the information presented by the Theosophical Society concerning kingdoms and rays essentially correct?

We find that they have valid information. It is for their audience, those who would need the information that comes from them. It is valid information. They, in their information processing, as you might call it, do not come from the kingdom in which Amelius has responsibility. They are from one of the other four.

We Have Five Kingdoms Operating At This Time. Will That Change After The Shift?

(December 03, 1991)

That will become known as The New Illusion unfolds. We must attend to the loose ends of the current illusion, and understand that with each illusion ~ major illusion change, comes significant switches, if you will, in energy transmission and flow of energy, and organization of energy.

Encasements In The Various Kingdoms

As we continue in our discussions for this year on the plane, The Earth Plane Connection, our focus of discussion in this session is related to the connections of the various encasements on the plane that make up the kingdoms, as we refer to them, The Animal Kingdom, The Mineral Kingdom, The Plant Kingdom, Air, Fire. The elements that you are all familiar with are all encasements of energy, and we reemphasize, as we begin this discussion, that all energy is equal. Simply being in the human encasement does not make you as a human encasement superior to any other energy, for all energy comes from The One, and all energy, therefore, is one and is connected. It is simply encasements that are taken on in various kingdoms for lessons to be learned and scenarios to be played out.

All Energy Outside Of The One Is Encased ~ Intelligence, Soul, Memory

The Human Kingdom is perhaps the most arrogant on the earth plane, as you would describe the personality, in thinking that it is superior, and therefore, in control of the other kingdoms that appear different, or appear to not have what you would call intelligence. Intelligence is an encasement in itself, and it resides within an encasement. That which you call memory is indeed an encasement, and it is a part of the Soul's memory which is also an encasement. The Soul is an encasement, my loved ones, remembering that energy in The One is total Being and that anything outside of The One is an encasement. Energy outside of The One is encased.

Connections Of The Various Encasements On The Plane That Make Up The Kingdoms

Now. We therefore take on encasements within encasements. To understand this, you would think of the analogy of placing a box that is small inside another box that is small, or placing within a circle another circle, and that it is infinite in the number of encasements that can fit within an encasement. All energy currently on the earth plane encases itself within each other. You are all encased within a larger encasement.

We mentioned awhile back that the human is not the end of the food chain, as you call it, on the earth plane. Rather, the food chain is not something that moves from one end to another end, thus, signifying beginning and end, but rather, is a circle. Now. Understand the implications of this, for the circle is neverending. The circle is The One, and therefore, there is no end to any food chain, as you would call it, but rather, in the form of dimensional energy the loop effect takes place, and all feed on the other.

Choosing Your Energy Circle To Integrate With Other Kingdoms

Some on the plane have developed very strong connections with The Animal Kingdom, with The Mineral Kingdom, many of the kingdoms, and are able to communicate to the greater kingdom through their own connection that is a part of their energy. Each on the earth plane has the potential for communication with any other kingdom that is encased on the earth plane. It simply becomes a matter of development of that ability, increased awareness, increased vibration, so that potentially, each of you has the ability to freely communicate with your own Energy Circle to then expand into the greater kingdom.

There are some, for example, in this gathering now who have developed their abilities to communicate with The Mineral Kingdom, and that first began by development of their own Mineral Kingdom connection, and once that was established, connection with the greater Mineral Kingdom began to occur. Some energies focus on developing communication with one or two of those Energy Circle companions.

Other energies decide that they want to develop the entire Energy Circle. It takes many lifetimes, of course, to do this. And it creates, then, a tremendous growth potential. It is most beautiful and most positive, for when there is the sense of harmony within your own Energy Circle, you then are able to respond to the needs of other Energy Circles. It creates a very heightened awareness, and it presents to you the opportunity for greater power to heal, to Be of Service ~ for all energy has intelligence, or memory, and those energies that you have made a part of The Circle contribute their own memories from their own experiences, thus, enabling you to have the greater advantage of a far more advanced knowledge than simply your Self, your own soul memories, you see.

All energy has not only their own soul memory and their own energy field, but all these other energies. And just as you as human are able to connect with the others in your Energy Circle and learn from them, so too, are they with you. There are many on the plane who would describe their experiences of connection with particular animals, for example, and if there is that sense of connection with a particular animal, it is most appropriate for you to believe that it is that energy that is a part of your Energy Circle.

Those on the plane who have chosen accelerated growth during this time period on the plane will also understand that the entire Energy Circle has taken on accelerated growth. Some of you may feel, actually feel, the earth as it undergoes its cleansing. Some of you may not. The difference simply is that if there is a feeling of the pain that the earth is going through, it is that your Energy Circle connection to the earth has been developed and is strong, and therefore, you have a direct connection with the greater energy known as the earth and its components.

Not all Energy Circles choose to develop themselves. They may choose to remain hidden from each other for any number of reasons, and it may be indeed for the entire connection with the earth plane that this occurs, where there is virtually no awareness of the other kingdoms that make up The Energy Circle of each. That is one scenario.

Levels Of Awareness Within Energy Circles Encased Within Energy Circles From Other Kingdoms
(March 03, 1992)

Other scenarios simply include various levels of awareness of the others included in The Energy Circle to the point of total awareness of the individual energy from the other kingdoms that make up The Energy Circle, not just the general energy kingdom, so that there are many on the plane who know specifically the energy of each in their Energy Circle. They may even have a name, and there is free flowing communication to the degree that it is not even thought about, but is just simply felt. There is not the awareness of a conversation going on, but rather, simply a knowledge, an awareness, that enables you to feel connected to all on the earth plane. Within these two extremes are all of the variations, and each of these variations are each of you at various points in your path, as we have indicated before, and you are all here to help each other in the development of awareness of The Energy Circle.

How Do You Bring In Other Various Energy Kingdoms Into Your Energy Circle?

Ah. That is all very, very organized, as you would expect. Nothing less than organization from The Universal Consciousness, for when you, as an energy, make the decision to come onto the earth plane, and remember that not all energies who come out of The One come onto the earth plane, but once you have made that decision, there then is a consultation with your Angelic Protector who calls in other guides and others who are especially trained for counseling in the development of an Energy Circle, and there then is the calling in of other energies who also have said they want to go onto the earth plane, but they do not want to go on right now, let us say, as a human. They want to come in as any various opportunity presents itself, and that there then becomes a discussion that all parties concerned agree that they will be a part of each other, and they will form an Energy Circle.

And there is also agreement in the fact that all who are a part of each other in a Circle agree that they will take on the encasement of those other kingdoms as part of their sojourn. And that when, for example, you as a human finish your human sojourn on the earth plane, and all the others in your Energy Circle have completed their sojourn in their particular kingdoms, all go off the earth plane and reassemble. There is a return to The One temporarily, momentarily, to reassemble and to gather up the, let us say, the stamina to once again go back onto the plane, and all those who were in The Energy Circle now switch. So, one who was in The Energy Circle as part of The Animal Kingdom may now become part of The Human Kingdom, and you would take its place in The Animal Kingdom, all agreed upon.

We emphasize to you that as you look at others on the earth plane, indeed as you would look at any other energy, be it a blade of grass or a pebble of sand, you must not judge superiority, for you do not know if that blade of grass in its last sojourn on the earth plane was indeed human. It is an ultimate discussion of judgement. And also, to remember that commitment to the earth plane as a learning ground is not limited to only coming in as one member of a kingdom. It means that one must take on all of the roles of the kingdoms that have been gathered in The Energy Circle.

The Energy Circle, while composed of all of the various kingdoms that exist on the earth plane, is not necessarily demanding that you take on all of those kingdoms, but rather, that prior to the first entry onto the earth plane there is agreement made among all in The Circle as to who will do what and how each will affect each other and interact with each other. That has already been planned prior to the first entry onto the plane. There are many who would read our words who once were a blade of grass.

Is There A Set Order Of Progression Into The Various Kingdoms Within Our Circle? (March 03, 1992)

There is no set order of progression, my loved one. This is a false understanding on the earth plane that The Human Kingdom, therefore, is superior to, that there would be a movement from a lower kingdom. It is not thought of as lower or higher. It is thought of as equal, and it is thought of only as however you work it out with your Energy Circle. In one Energy Circle, you may find that there is the human and then the mineral and then the plant, or you may start out in The Plant Kingdom and work your way around to various ~ you may become part of the air energy. You may start out as human and then move into air or fire.

What we have not included in this discussion, and this will come at another time, are particular kingdoms that are a part of the earth plane that you are unaware of. Just as there are some in the other kingdoms that are unaware of The Human Kingdom, so too, are there energies that exist in dimensions that you as humans are unaware of but are a part of your Energy Circle. And just because you are unaware of them now, does not mean that you are unaware of them, but rather, encased as a human, you are unaware until you begin to expand your own consciousness and become better able to connect with your Energy Circle and the data bank that your Energy Circle has, the tremendous potential that this data bank has. And it is this data bank that connects into The Universal Consciousness.

Will You Discuss The Water Kingdom? (March 03, 1992)

Yes, and water is an encasement. Water is ~ in fact, there are several of you in this gathering now who have already gone through The Kingdom of Water and you have the sense of water within you. For once you have experienced the kingdom, the essence of that experience remains with you, and in some cases very strongly. But this is for another discussion, my love, in which we will be addressing a very specific issue, and that will tie in that which we have presented in this session.

Is our horoscope with the water signs then a clue to what our sojourns have been?

We cannot say yes or no to this. This is not one of those yes or no questions. It is a part of that which you choose as your entry combination and is related to another concept which we have not presented yet, and when we present that, it will then naturally flow with a response to your question. We know that there are many questions that are in your minds and we would want you to meditate upon those questions, and we will be giving in other sessions more opportunities for questions. We will balance the amount of time that we spend in presenting a concept with allowing more questioning. The information that we have given in this session was of necessity longer in its time duration from us so as to implant into each of you all the questions, for we have given information that is generally not discussed on the earth plane and is now time to be presented, discussed and disseminated to those who would understand and be ready for the information.

Other Kingdoms Are In The Same Mode Of Dependency As The Human Kingdom (November 03, 1992)

You mentioned other kingdoms, like animal, mineral, or plant, can be just as co-dependent as an energy. Could you explain or give us an example of what you mean?

If you have an animal friend, that animal friend may indeed be dependent upon your energy for its behavior, just as you are dependent upon another for your behavior, and that you would look to another for affirmation. The Animal Kingdom is no different. Many would look for affirmation. Many would not. The Mineral Kingdom is also in the same mode of dependency. It seeks out energies. Many of you have heard crystals screaming "Take me! Take me!" Now, this is no different than you as a human going to another saying "Take me! Take me!" You see? It is all ~ it flows all very naturally. What is applicable to The Human Kingdom is applicable to all of the other energy kingdoms. It just varies in the way in which it is achieved, you see.

Percentage Of Water And Land After The Shift ~ Brief Discussion Of Transitional Kingdoms (May 04, 1993)

The percentage of water versus land now versus after The Shift. Will it be more water and less land, or will the balance be roughly the same?

Why is that important to know?

I was just thinking about whales and dolphins, if there is going to be more of those types of animals on the earth. It struck me, if there is more water. It is probably a silly question.

No, we found it to be curious. As you know, oftentimes, your questions to us, we find to be curious questions, not silly at all, but simply, why would you want to know that? However, you have given us your point of reference without us having to determine it ourselves.

Understand that The Animal Kingdom undergoes the same type of changes that The Human Kingdom, some will stay and some will not stay. There will be changes occurring. And that which you know as dolphins and whales will be one arena out of that which is not really an Animal Kingdom, but a transitional kingdom between animal and human that will change as the dimensions of the vibrational configuration of human and animal change. The transition must ~ we have not really discussed transitional kingdoms. That is a topic for another time, just to understand that dolphins and whales are transitional ~ part of transitional kingdoms.

There will be approximately fifty/fifty percentage of land and water at the beginning of The New Illusion. As the illusion begins to move along, that configuration will change. This is true of every illusion ~ the beginnings of every illusion. It is fifty/fifty, the balance is there ~ at which point, just as the lessons begin to take hold in The New Illusion, changes occur with all of the vibrations in the various kingdoms, regardless of any concentrated attention as to percentages. It happens very naturally, the changes in percentage. In some illusions, the percentages go higher for water. In other illusions, the percentages go higher for land. It is dependent upon what the mission of that particular illusion might be, and it all relates to balance.

Question About Transitional Kingdoms ~ A Brief Discussion (July 20, 1993)

A while ago, you mentioned transitional kingdoms, talking about dolphins and whales. What are they transitional from and to?

That is a very good question. Much insightfulness potential. And, indeed, to give you a very good response would require more time than we have in this session. We are planning to go further into Animal Kingdom discussions in the coming year. We have not yet revealed what our topic for the New Year will be. However, the clue that we would give you is that there will be discussion in depth of, at least, The Animal Kingdom. Kingdoms is an operative word. That is a second clue. We give no more.

A Question About The Dominance Of Different Genders Within The Kingdoms (August 17, 1993)

Were the matriarchal societies as dominant, only with the females being the dominant? Were they similar to this, or did they have spiritual leaders or ~ why did they switch? Or did they switch? ☺

Well. That actually is a far more complicated question than you would imagine, my love, and it would take a bit of explanation, for it does relate to energy dominance within encasements, and you know, because there is a female encasement, does not mean that the energy in it is female, so that it relates to some far more complex discussions and would indeed be part of our discussions, for we will have in the year coming, a thread, if you will, of discussions that relates to other kingdoms and the interconnectedness of all with the other kingdoms. And that which is female dominated versus male dominated societies ~ cultures ~ be it in The Human Kingdom or any of the other kingdoms, and understand that gender is a component of the earth plane experience and that energies such as wind, that you are not able to see, has gender.

Do not even think of asking the question. ☺

- ⚙ How does a boy wind and a girl wind make another wind, right? ☺
- ⚙ You mean, there are genders in trees, too?

Indeed. There is gender in all energy forms. That is a little bit of an enticement that we will not elaborate upon at this time. We will, however, be addressing these issues in the coming earth plane year.

Communication Abilities Of Dolphins And Whales ~ A Discussion of Transitional Kingdoms (February 01, 1994)

It is fascinating the way dolphins and killer whales communicate, and how autistic children are working with dolphins. Is this the preparation somehow for The Shift, for the way we are going to be communicating in the new shift, a further form of communication, the way autistic people communicate with dolphins?

We would first respond to the description of the whale. We would not want the descriptive of killer whale to be used, for this is at a Soul Level a very gentle energy that has its purpose within the scheme of what are called Transition Kingdoms. And the whale, as you know, and the dolphin, as you know it, are the emissaries of what is called The Transition Kingdom. And The Transition Kingdom, very briefly stated ~ and we will discuss it in greater detail at another time ~ is a kingdom in which energies who are moving from one kingdom to another can find refuge.

This becomes, then, a haven for entities who may be having difficulty in moving from, let us say, The Human Kingdom into The Mineral Kingdom, or The Mineral Kingdom into The Plant Kingdom. And this particular Transition Kingdom is really not what you would call of The Animal Kingdom, or the mammal, as it is called, for your scientists have never really quite figured out what they are. And they are not animals and they are not humans. "What are they, for heaven's sakes?" And this is primarily what they are. They serve as a way in which to learn new ways of communicating which will be evident in a new kingdom. So, the way that you communicate in The Human Kingdom, for example, is very different from the way in which you communicate when you are in The Mineral Kingdom. And thus, there is, as easy as we can say it, a transition time that occurs at concrete level. This is different from transitions that occur in other dimensions at spirit level.

We will give much more discussion on this, if not in this year on the plane, certainly in the year to follow, as it becomes more understandable, and, of course, easier to accept, for much of what we would have to say we do not, for it is not time to give out the information, until a level of awareness and acceptance and understanding is reached. So, we would say at this point, they are indeed not what they appear to be, and they are very gentle and loving and have communicative abilities beyond anything that you would understand at this point in your awarenesses ~ most on the plane, not all, but most. And we speak of The Human Kingdom when we give that directive.

Is autism a kind of a transitional stage when you are in the human?

No, it is not. It is meant for particular lessons and particular situations. And again, when we speak of health issues, once again, if that question is brought up, we would certainly discuss it within that realm.

Is The Transitional Kingdom When You Are Going Into Another Kingdom, As Whales And Dolphins?
(March 01, 1994)

You talked about Transitional Kingdoms, and you talked about whales and dolphins. I do not know if I was confused, but did you say that it was a Transitional Kingdom for ~ is it for just one kingdom to another? Or is it for anytime you are going into another kingdom?

It can be for anytime that you are going into another kingdom. It is not mandatory. It is a soothing situation. There is a very distinct flow of energy. And this, again, is to be included in our general conversation of energy exchange, which we will find appropriate as a topic when the very warm temperatures settle in to the plane in where you geographically are located. It is another form of energy exchanges that exist and is available for entities to avail themselves of when they move from one type of energy to another ~ the manifestation of that energy ~ for each kingdom has its very different ways of working with energy.

So that this particular form that you call dolphins and whales is a kingdom in and of itself. It is unique to itself and has been designed to provide glimpses, if you will, into the differences in the kingdom that you have just left and the kingdom you are about to move into, so that for many who would want to have perhaps what you call the sneak preview, this gives a better positioning of that. Even though you are able to have the sneak preview from the higher dimensions into a new kingdom, it is not always the most concrete sneak preview. It is illusionary in a way that, as many of you would call it, is deceptive ~ you fooled us. You made us think it was something that it was not.

When you are in this particular transitional kingdom, the reality of what you have come from and what you go into is much clearer and more substantive. It is a very gentle, soothing ~ Transitional Kingdom. And it is also meant for entities to decide whether they want to move into the kingdom in which they are preparing to go. They may decide, upon reflection of the differences in the two, that it is not appropriate at that time in their development to do that. It gives the ability to contrast much more effectively than simply looking from a higher dimension into the next kingdom. Again, this will be a topic of discussion in a larger context.

Various Kingdoms That Exist And The Interrelationship Of Those Kingdoms (March 15, 1994)

We are in this gathering with you now to have discussion on a topic that is of interest, we have learned over our times with all of you, and that is the topic of the various kingdoms that exist and the interrelationship of those kingdoms. And we would, before opening this for discussion and to receive your questions, we would want to give you perhaps some clarity on this definition of kingdom, for it is used, the word, to represent several positionings of energy. And we would want to give you some understanding of how we, from our frame of reference, will be responding to your questions. So, understand that other frames of reference that you may have access to from other sources of information may present their information in a way a bit different from the way we present it. Nonetheless, it is eventually all the same information, of course.

We have used the word kingdom in two very distinct ways. The first is the way in which we have referred to the dividing up of The Universal Consciousness into its, shall we say, job responsibilities, and that there are five kingdoms that make up The Universe, if you will, and that each of those kingdoms has an entity in charge of it.

The kingdom in which we find ourselves is the kingdom represented by Amelius, as an energy reference point. There are four others who are in that position. And the five of them make up then the way in which The Universe is organized. It is not always five as a number. At this moment, if you will, in the projection of illusion outside of The Universal Consciousness, five is the number. There are other projections in which there are fewer, and other times in which there are significantly larger numbers of kingdoms. It is dependent upon forces that make these decisions that bear no real importance to our discussion at this point.

Within each of the kingdoms, then, are really what you would call sub-kingdoms, and that is what you all commonly know as The Animal Kingdom, The Mineral Kingdom, The Human Kingdom, The Element Kingdom, the whatever, all of the various kingdoms. They are actually sub-kingdoms. It makes it easier, however, to simply make reference to them as kingdoms rather than sub, for then you would get into a hierarchical order of sub to sub to sub, and we prefer not to do that, for in actuality, there is no hierarchical order. There is, rather, only circular relationships, which is where we now bring ourselves to the point of questioning, so that some of your questions would go onto the record.

This will be an ongoing conversation as our time with you progresses, and perhaps a better understanding of the complexities of each of the kingdoms will give benefit in some way to the growth that so many of you seek through understanding of differences from Self. So, let us now take particular questions.

How Do We Communicate Effectively Between Kingdoms?

How do we communicate effectively between kingdoms? Do we get symbolically in images or in words or thoughts? How do I communicate effectively with, for example, my dog, if I want to?

Well, you know, there is this device call the Universal translator. That comes from some frame of reference on the earth plane through Mushiba's vocabulary. However, it is not really quite as earth planey as it might sound, or farfetched. There is an ability, and we would preface our response to you by saying that all entities have an ability to communicate between the kingdoms, and among all of the sub-kingdoms, and also to communicate in the same manner from each of the five kingdoms.

The ability is the key word in this, for part of the progression to return to The One is to develop certain abilities, and all are given the opportunity to take on this learning of communication. Not all, however, choose to take on this learning of communication abilities. It is the reason why you will see such, what you might call disparities, occurring between people who you would observe on the earth plane who seem to connect with other energies without even realizing it, and others who make no connection and have absolutely no desire to make a connection.

Going into an altered state ~ as you would refer to it at an earth plane level ~ is the way in which it is achieved at a certain point in the path, so that you are consciously then attempting to communicate with another energy. Being able to communicate with other energies is actually very, very easy. However, it is the blockages that Self would impose as well as the energy to whom you might be attempting to communicate. As is always the case, it is a balancing and it is not simply because you want to communicate with, let us say, the animal energy currently stretched out before us all here. If this energy also wants to communicate, then it will be an easier situation. If there are blockages, then of course it will not be.

As you begin to evolve in your abilities, and it takes of course many lifetimes, but it also takes the experiences within the kingdoms themselves in order to reach the fulfillment of that communication ability that eventually you communicate without any effort, just as you would communicate at this dimension with others of your kingdom in The Human Kingdom.

Some entities may take on the learning of communicating with a specific kingdom. For example, The Animal and The Mineral Kingdom are two of the favorite kingdoms that humans like to interact with, and the Mineral and The Animal with The Human. There is a bonding that has developed for this particular projection out of The Universal Consciousness. And thus, there is much activity occurring among the energies in those kingdoms to communicate with each other. If you, as a human, have already been in The Mineral Kingdom, you will find it much easier than to communicate with The Mineral Kingdom obviously, if you have taken that on as part of your lesson. If The Mineral Kingdom energy has been already in The Human Kingdom and is now in The Mineral Kingdom, there will be a greater ease. Some energies decide that they want to communicate with as many different kingdoms as they can, and of course that is quite a task, for it ultimately means that there must be experiences in each of those kingdoms. And as we have said before, it is not mandatory that an energy go into all of the kingdoms available on the earth plane. You may select from that.

For purposes currently on the earth plane, for those who have determined that they would want to communicate, let us say, with The Mineral Kingdom, this communication link appears to be perhaps the strongest, Human to Mineral Kingdom, currently on the plane. For The Animal Kingdom, many are working through abuses from The Human Kingdom, and there are blockages, which is topic for another conversation when we further discuss abuses among the kingdoms.

To communicate with a Mineral Kingdom energy, first and foremost, is simply the desire to want to. That is the easy part, of course. Secondly, you would take a very specific energy from The Mineral Kingdom that you feel a connection with, and you would begin the process of bonding with this particular energy by holding within the hands the energy. Focus that which comes from the Heart Energy Center ~ the energy that comes from that Heart Energy Center ~ into the equivalent Energy Center in the mineral, for The Mineral Kingdom energies also have Energy Centers different from, but similar to, The Human Kingdom. And you would do this until you begin to feel a response, and again, there is no definitive experience that we can say to you when you feel such and such, this is the link that has been made, but rather, as with true communication, it is simply a sense that there is an understanding.

And once you have done this, then there is what you would simply call a breakthrough. Once you are able to connect with one from The Mineral Kingdom, you then will find yourself able to communicate in ways that you may regret later on, for many who communicate with The Mineral Kingdom would tell you that once they get going and they can communicate with you, they want you to take them everywhere with them, and you end up having The Mineral Kingdom all around you. They are like that. Because so many of them are so small, they feel that they could just come along for the ride and they will not be noticed.

They are a most delightful and joyful kingdom. And The Mineral Kingdom has as its prime objective to Be of Service through healing and to be that kind of connector through healing. We have talked of minerals in the past and will pick up on that conversation at a time in the future. But the method used for The Mineral Kingdom is quite similar for use with the other kingdoms, where you would simply focus. You actually do not need to hold the energy but simply to focus from your Heart Energy to what you would believe to be the equivalent Heart Energy of the other kingdom member. In a nutshell, that is how one would do it.

Question And Discussion About The Other Four Kingdoms On Earth
(March 15, 1994)

I am confused about the five kingdoms, like the one we have with Amelius. Are the other four physically manifest on the earth? Are we involved with them?

Oh, indeed.

I do not understand what they are.

Indeed. Are you physically manifest on the earth?

I think so.

Yes, there is question at times, isn't there, for all on the earth plane. You would try to understand the way in which the five kingdoms present themselves. We have responsibility over a grouping of energies, each of the five, and there is overlapping. There are, at times in our gatherings with you, energies who come from all the other kingdoms.

The way in which information is disseminated and the way it sounds, differs from kingdom to kingdom. It is part of the reason why you have so much differing definitions of the same concept. We have emphasized over all of our sessions with you that the frames of reference need to be properly placed so that you understand the concept from a particular frame of reference, and that we have had questions asked of us using particular words that are frames of reference from the other four kingdoms. And we simply then, if you will, plug into that particular kingdom to determine the concept that is being presented and then bring in our own frame of reference.

You would think of it much as a very large organization that is in one particular building ~ the earth plane ~ and in order for this organization to run properly, there are five major departments that all have various functions, some similar and some different, all meant to come into harmony, to have the whole ~ the body ~ function as a unit. And depending on what your abilities and what your skills are would then determine whether you stay within one department, and that particular positioning, or whether you would move about from department to department, interacting, if you will, or becoming a part of a department.

There are many who, once they have finished all of the kingdoms within one of the kingdoms, move into one of the other of the five kingdoms of the four remaining, and do that kingdom, if you will, and finish that and go into kingdom number three, and kingdom number four and kingdom number five. Some choose to do that. Most do not. One kingdom is enough.

This, understand, is earth plane related and does not have the same type of framework on the other training grounds. There are other kinds of interactions. However, to explain that at this point in our dissemination with all of you would be a bit confusing. That will come later on as time progresses. So yes, you are interacting with many on a very regular basis who come from the other four kingdoms. One kingdom is certainly not better than another kingdom. All are equal and all have particular tasks to perform. The information that we give out is primarily intended for those who are part of The Kingdom of Amelius, and they would identify with the information. It would feel right for them, even though the concepts that we give are exactly the same concepts that are given in other kingdoms. The way in which it is presented and the way it hears within your own vibration is what is critical and what is different.

We encourage ~ as do the others in the other four kingdoms ~ all of you to interact, to seek out those who see things differently and to find the similarities, and then once there is the feeling of stability, that you are indeed similar, then the differences are not a threat to you, and you can enjoy the differences rather than feel that the differences somehow are negative, as so often seems to be the case, that if some energy expresses something different, or behaves different from the way that you would behave in a similar situation, that that entity is negative. This is not of course necessarily true. So, you would look for the opportunity to meet those who would have different views in the way that you think.

One among you does this on a very regular basis. We would use her as an example, for she is used to this by now. And (Name given) is a little magnet for others coming from the other kingdoms. A source of frustration at times, my love, is it not?

It is quite frustrating.

As they say the same thing but do not hear that it is the same. Indeed.

I am still having trouble grasping the concept. For example, my neighbor and his dog, the tree in his yard, and next to him is a different kingdom. Or is it different dimensions that the kingdoms are in?

No, they all exist simultaneously within the same space.

Each kingdom has sub-kingdoms, the same animals, the mineral?

Yes, indeed.

And does this divide along racial lines?

Of course not. Each kingdom has its own mixture. The mixtures are the same among the kingdoms. You must not become obsessed with the demarcation lines of kingdoms, for there are none. They overlap. And it is not the intention for there to be that type of perception, that on this street is kingdom number, one and on the street next to us, is kingdom number two. We are not about to tell you who is in what kingdom, for it is irrelevant. It is not necessary to know if the individual sitting next to you is in another kingdom, for what does it matter?

And Amelius is not in charge of any of the other kingdoms? He just has his own.

One is quite enough.

I remember the Urantia book seemed to say that he was in charge, and that is why I was questioning. But one is enough.

One is quite enough. There is the board, as we have referred to them, coming from the vocabulary of Mushiba, that the five running the kingdom make the final decisions, if you will, for the responsibility has been given to them by The Universal Consciousness that they will be the representatives of the final decisions. And they are made instantaneously. They will make major decisions in a harmonious manner, and have this very large oak, oval table that they sit around. They have their VCRs and they all click into the various kingdoms they are in charge of.

How about into the latest Disney one?

There can be tampering at times ~ yes, the little mischievous entities. This is common throughout all the training grounds. It is part of the learning experience to go through mischievous entities.

Are all of us here then involved with The Kingdom of Amelius?

Oh, that is a very good question. Good, good try, my son, to get us to reveal that, well, over in this corner is kingdom number three and over in this corner is kingdom number four. There are mixtures with each gathering that we have. There are always mixtures. It is part of the goal, and it is very much part of our mission. Just as when the other kingdoms and their disseminators gather, there is mixture. It creates imbalance if there is not mixture.

So, on any gathering that we might go to in our daily activities, the plants, the animals, the minerals, the humans, that we see, would be from all the different kingdoms.

Indeed. Understand that the differences are primarily vibrational ~ primarily vibrational ~ all meant to keep order. Try keeping all of this under one. It would be most difficult. There is always order being made out of chaos. And we have not even gone into the way in which there are kingdoms within kingdoms within kingdoms within kingdoms, you see. That is for another time.

How many sub-kingdoms are there then within Amelius?

Infinite. If you would like we could give you a number to play with. Four million, three hundred and twenty-four thousand, eight hundred and sixty-one, point four.

What Are Some Of The Sub-Kingdoms Within The Amelius Kingdom?

(March 15, 1994)

We are familiar with the animals and plants and humans. What are some of the examples of some of these other ones that you are referring to? Bugs?

Yes, you plugged right into my energy, my love. I was just going to say the bugs, the little bugs. And, you know, the bugs have sub-kingdoms within. Then there is all the little bugs. And some of them are bugs and some of them are not bugs. Some of them appear to be bugs but they are not bugs at all. And grains of sand sometimes are from The Mineral Kingdom and sometimes they are from The Sand Kingdom. It is difficult to distinguish at times. And carpeting has its own little kingdom, for the energy that comes out of carpeting is a little kingdom. So, wherever there are energies are gathered there are little kingdoms. More than one energy gathered is a kingdom. And enough of them in similarities make up kingdoms. Some have more in them than others, and some have very few. It is determined by many different factors. There are major kingdoms and minor kingdoms, and within the major kingdoms, there are minor kingdoms, and within the minor kingdoms there are major kingdoms. Would you like me to continue?

You know, we have presented on a very, very small basis quite, quite a number of sessions ago when we were first beginning to give information. We gave a brief discussion on kingdoms. And we now bring back the subject simply to begin the process of advanced information which will come over time. So, if we appear to be presenting a response in a rather capricious way, it partially is that we are doing that, but also that there is much more complexity to it. For an understanding to be there, there needs to be the groundwork that is laid, and that will come as time progresses.

Is It Necessary To Have Experiences On Other Planets To Fully Learn The Earth Plane Experience?

Let us say, if I wanted to complete The Human Kingdom, would that include maybe beings that took a form on another planet?

As you currently know the earth plane, there are other planets that you often refer to in your own understanding of what you call the solar system. It is all presented deliberately from The Universal Consciousness, and that the earth plane is more than simply the planet Earth. It is comprised of many, many different planets that are part of the earth plane, the earth plane being the Energy Vortex, if you will, for the experience of it as a training ground.

There are many planets, as you call them, or as we call them training grounds, associated with the earth plane that you are not even aware of that have not been shown to you on the physical planet Earth. And then there are, of course, those that you are aware of, the names that have been given to them. So that to come onto the earth plane, as an experience, as a training ground, means more than simply being on Planet Earth. It means that you go onto the other planets also, and that, again, depending upon The Menu that you select and the degree to which you wish to accelerate on this training ground, will determine where you go and to what percentage you will spend your training on these particular planets.

It goes into this issue that we have discussed in the past where questions are raised regarding ~ we shudder at the use of the word ALIEN, for what it represents as something foreign, or extraterrestrial, as if it were something outside of Self, and it is not. Because of the way in which time exists, and energy exists, all occur simultaneously, but that is also for another time. So yes, you would be able to communicate with others from other, what you call, planets more easily than you would from kingdoms. You know, to communicate with The Animal Kingdom is more difficult than to communicate with your equivalent kingdom on another planet, and that you would indeed be able to communicate better with an entity coming from one of these planets if you had in fact spent time on that planet as part of your experience.

It is not required, but it is mostly necessary to have experiences on other planets of the earth plane in order to fully learn the earth plane experience. And most energies currently on the earth plane have, in their desire to accelerate, had experiences on the other planets. And because of the way in which energy flows, you may meet yourself on occasion. And we will leave that remark for future elaboration.

Do The Other Four Kingdoms Send In Communicators Within Their Kingdom? (March 15, 1994)

If I understand correctly, Amelius projected part of himself onto the earth plane as Jesus, to give us some messages. Have the other four lead energies done the same thing?

Of course.

Like historical figures like Buddha and people like that?

We are not allowed to give out those specific kinds of information, but all of the significant entities who you are aware of in this particular illusion have come out of the leaders. And the five are not lead entities. They are higher than lead energies. They train, however, lead energies to take their place. But they are a level that we have not really discussed in great detail that comes out of The Universal Consciousness.

Understand that your frame of reference for this illusion is simply a limited number of names, as you might call them. But yes, they each will send communicators into their own kingdom, and they do not cross kingdoms. So, Amelius will manifest only within the kingdom to which he is responsible, as the others would also do. And the significant advancements, if you will, in this current illusion, for that is the only frame of reference that you have, is made by energies who come from that source, as emissaries, as very specific communicators. As we are given permission over time to give out those kinds of details, we would certainly do so.

That implies the validity of different religions for different kingdoms, or if not necessarily for different kingdoms, for certainly the different perceptions that you were talking about ~ Amelius providing as a leader only for that kingdom. Now, this was certainly in a time frame that has spread throughout the world, but it seems that obviously certain religions are more appropriate for certain cultures than Christianity, or this Buddhism, or Hinduism, is more appropriate for those cultures than Christianity would be.

Ah, but it is not as simple. You see, you try once again to give lines of demarcation and to say that well, the entity Jesus came out of the Amelius energy, and therefore, if you are Christian and/or Catholic, then you must be in Amelius' Kingdom. And Moses and Buddha and all of the other names that you are acquainted with, they must very definitely represent these other kingdoms. Or maybe Amelius, for all you know. You have no idea who has done what. The only one you do know is that Amelius sent an emissary who manifested as Jesus. And while they manifest within their own kingdoms, it does not mean that once that has been manifest, a, shall we say, religion, that it is restricted only to that kingdom.

That was the point, if there is a certain time frame, but it is expanded beyond that time frame. The point was, would that be an explanation of why some people, even within that same culture, that message will resonate with them, whereas it will not with other people, and that should be a part of our nonjudgement.

Yes. Yes. All five kingdoms are represented and have members within all of the organized religions and all of the cultures. It is all mixed in. You cannot go to one particular culture, or one particular geographic location, or one particular social system, and say that that is inhabited primarily by those from the kingdom of so and so. All of the kingdoms are equally represented in all of the systems that exist. And yes, one particular system may be initially established by a particular leader of a kingdom. But once that establishment has occurred, then it immediately becomes intermixed, for if it did not, it would be out of balance.

Could these communicators involve people like Thomas Edison, Thomas Jefferson and Michelangelo? It does not necessarily mean religion or social structure, does it?

A topic for another discussion ~ topic for another time, for our time now comes to closure with you in this gathering, and as you know, this topic we have discussed is much more complex than you might imagine, and also has, I am sure, for many of you, questions that have been raised as a result of the questions raised in this session. And that is why we are here, to help you in your questioning, you see. Getting the answer is the easy part. It is getting the question that is so difficult, for once the question is there, then finding the answer is easy, you see. That is what awareness is all about. Once you have the answer, there is nothing more. There is no more challenge. The challenge comes, and the growth comes, in suddenly seeing the question.

And on that point, we will send you now an energy that perhaps if you focus a bit within Self during meditation time, you will communicate with Self.

Can A Sub-Kingdom Be An Energy Group? (April 05, 1994)

Last time you talked about the kingdoms and the sub-kingdoms. Is it fair to say that a sub-kingdom could be an energy group?

Oh, indeed. Indeed, it could be. And in fact, we will be giving a greater discussion on the topic of kingdoms in the coming time frame that will be a prelude, if you will, to part of The New Illusion and how it is going to play itself out on the earth plane, for the kingdoms will be different in The New Illusion. Some will remain as you know them now. Others will disappear, and new kingdoms will present themselves, and of course then new types of encasements. So, you will have some newness to energy that you currently do not have.

Energy groupings ~ and we have talked quite extensively about energy groupings and will continue our presentation at an advanced level soon regarding energy groupings ~ each grouping is in itself a kingdom within a kingdom within a kingdom, etc., etc. We will define kingdom in a different way as it will be appropriate for The New Illusion. We have been defining kingdom as it applies to the consciousness now of the current illusion. And as that becomes changed, then it will be appropriate to give the new definitions, but not until your frames of reference have been altered so that there will be an understanding of the information that we will provide.

When Souls Go From Kingdom To Different Kingdoms In Their Selected Paths (June 07, 1994)

Do Animals Have Souls And An Afterlife, And How It Is Different From That Of Human?

Oh, indeed. Energy exists in all, IN ALL. Everything has energy. Some encasements manifest themselves in ways that appear to be more alive than others. But the pillow, my love, on which you sit, has energy, and is no different than the animal in terms of energy from a Universal perspective. In terms of its purpose and the service that it provides, that is where the differences come in. All energy has a connection to The Universal Consciousness and therefore has a piece of the Universal Soul. And an animal, such as the energy that sprawls itself out here, has a soul and has gone through many, many lifetimes, not just in The Animal Kingdom but in many other of the kingdoms. There is no hierarchy of importance in terms of encasements or kingdoms, as we refer to them.

The Human Kingdom is not at the top of the pile, shall we say, that you work your way up through and finally you are the lucky one and you become human. Some would dispute whether being in The Human Kingdom is lucky, when one would look at the type of life that this animal lives, you see. Mushiba, I receive from the memory banks, of food being prepared for this animal better than the humans, but this is fine. This is what is meant to be.

An energy chooses to go into as many or as few kingdoms as they would want to go into when leaving The Universal Consciousness, and may decide to take on two or three kingdoms, and once they have completed that, they could say, "Well, I think I will take on a few more kingdoms." Or, "I will go back to The Universal Consciousness." It is self-chosen. You may indeed go into The Human Kingdom first and then go into The Plant Kingdom, or The Animal Kingdom. There is no defined order. The purpose of each of the kingdoms is for specific lessons to be learned ~ which you would determine upon leaving The One ~ that you wanted to learn.

And so, you have this entire Menu set out before you. And you can choose what you want to learn, and where you want to learn it, and how you want to learn it, and you are then given an Angelic Protector and guides to help you through all of this, who then guide you and say, "Well, perhaps you should not take on all of this in one lifetime. It might be more than you can do in one lifetime." And you may listen to them or you may not, just like you would do to others who would guide you here on the earth plane. And it may turn out all right after all or it may not. And the guides and The Angelic Protectors have been trained to not say, "I told you so." It is part of their training, even that they may think it and say, "We told you not to take on all those things. You see, it was much too much difficult."

But, you see, it is a game. It is to be looked at on one hand as very serious. This is lessons very seriously to be learned. On the other hand, the Lightheartedness, that it is all an illusion and that all is as it needs to be, as difficult as it might appear ~ the life that you are living ~ it is as you have chosen it to be. You are not being imposed upon by another. You have selected what you are doing. It is taking the responsibility for your own behavior that is the true growth of a spiritual path and not to blame another for your afflictions, for there is no one else to blame but yourself in the Universal perspective, if blame is even the word, for we do not consider it blame. We consider it simply lessons to be learned.

And your soul, then, will go with you from lifetime to lifetime and from kingdom to kingdom. And thus, the animal goes through a series of lifetimes in The Animal Kingdom as you would go through in The Human Kingdom and takes with it the memories from each of those lifetimes and stores those memories, just as you do, to be used when appropriate. And when not needed in a particular lifetime, they are stored away. Never gone, simply in storage, ready to be opened up and used when needed, you see.

Did Human Encasements Transition From Some Other Source?

(September 06, 1994)

No. There is no hierarchical order of encasements, one being better than the other. Encasements are encasements. And as we call them, the kingdoms ~ The Human Kingdom, The Mineral Kingdom ~ one can be in The Human Kingdom and then go into The Mineral Kingdom, or into The Carpet Kingdom. What is important is, issues are needed to be learned from one encasement to another, and all of the illusions that go with being in that encasement. One of the illusions of The Human Kingdom that has been prevalent is that The Human Kingdom thinks that they are at some type of pinnacle in the order of things. There is no hierarchy. It is simply existence. There is no top to the order of things.

Levels of awareness is the only type of difference that one would find among energies. And an energy that is encased, let us say, in The Mineral Kingdom may have ~ indeed often does ~ a higher level of awareness than many in The Human Kingdom. Those in The Animal Kingdom may also have a higher level of awareness, for they may have gone through many, many, many kingdoms, many different awarenesses. It is the degree to which one understands where one fits into the scheme, into the grand plan, and the ability to connect into Self, and eventually, then into the grand plan.

It is a very interesting lesson that is given to The Human Kingdom that they think that they are in control of everything. If it is not understood, if it is not known by The Human Kingdom, then it does not exist. Period. Right? This is all part of the illusion that is presented. And there are some who have done all the other kingdoms and come to The Human Kingdom as its final point in the path. Therefore, they would have very high levels of understanding, and others who would not, who may be coming out of The Universal Consciousness for the first time and coming into The Human Kingdom as their first experience. They have very low levels of understanding, and they are sitting right next to someone who has gone through all of the kingdoms and has a very high level of understanding, yet they are both in the same type of encasement.

It is done purposely so as to teach, also, lessons of judgement and unconditional understanding. It is not anyone else's concern what another does or where they are in their own understandings, but rather, it is your concern only to be of self-understanding. And the more you understand your own Self and your own levels of awareness, the greater will be your ability to appreciate that others have different levels of understanding and to Be of Service if called upon by other energies to help them in their own growth.

Why Is Water Such An Important Part In The Upcoming Events?

(February 07, 1995)

It seems that water plays a tremendous role in all this upcoming. It rains and rains, and everywhere everybody talks about water. So, it is more than wind and earth shifts or earthquakes. Why is the water such an important part in these upcoming events?

Well, there will be, as we have indicated, a fifty percent allocation of water and a fifty percent allocation of land at the beginning of the illusion, that that will gradually shift in its percentages. While the cleansing is occurring, there will at times be much more water allocated on the planet than land, and other times there will be more land as the balancing occurs. The Water Kingdom plays a very significant role in keeping the balance of what we call the abstract and the concrete. Water as a kingdom is considered abstract. Land as a kingdom is considered concrete. We will go into a further discussion of the kingdoms at some future time and give you indications of where they fit in the balance of concrete and abstract.

Thus, the water is also creating an energy that helps in the soothing. As the vibration of the planet earth component becomes heated from the stress of the upheaval, the water enables there to be a cooling down. It is much like your own encasements, where water is used to help cool down and to give a soothing effect to the encasement. It also serves as a way of physically cleaning out and bringing certain debris, as you know it, into a particular vibrational dimension that takes it out of the earth plane. There is much debris that has been on the planet in this illusion that is gone now. Most have not been tuning into the fact that the debris is going. Where does it go? It goes into another dimension, just as you all are able to move into other dimensions. It is in another dimension now. It is stored, shall we say, and will come out again when it is time for it to reappear in another illusion. The water, then, is part of the mechanisms that are in place to move certain concrete debris into another dimension. You will see the water occurring in excess in parts of the planet, and there will not be water in other parts of the planet.

We indicated quite some time ago that the planet is now in the beginning stages of what you call drought. Even though you may think that you have water abounding, that you have more rain, as you call it, than normal, you must remember that the normal, as measured in this time frame, is contrasted from a frame of reference of only one hundred earth plane years ago. The cleansing was well in place before the frames of reference were even in place. So, normal, as you know it now, is actually normal for a cleansing and not normal for normal, you see.

You find yourselves now in a geographic area, where Terra Lux is concerned, of relative balance between dry and wet. It will very soon, however, tip the scale and go into that which is dry. In looking at the balance in the planet, there is more that is dry than is wet. Whenever there is water that comes, it is immediately absorbed into the storage facilities that are in place for the beginning of The New Illusion. All works in a very orderly way. There is much that occurs that is not within the realm of understanding by The Human Kingdom, and also not needed to be known by The Human Kingdom at this point. Some may never know it ~ those in The Human Kingdom. They may not have the ability to understand. They may not have the awareness to understand.

Water in every illusion plays a very significant role, for it is part of the balancing of the illusion itself and the planet. Water exists in concept in many of the training grounds. There is a Water Planet, as we have indicated, as a training ground. It is a very abstract training ground. We will discuss it in greater detail when it is appropriate.

Have Other Kingdoms On Earth Been Polluting The Environment Besides Man?

(May 02, 1995)

Have there been any other ascension races on earth that have been polluting the environment besides man? I was thinking in terms of like dolphins or whales, or some other species that we do not normally associate with, with construction or use of the earth?

It is not just The Human Kingdom that has brought the earth, physical, to this current point. It is all who inhabit the planet. All work in harmony or disharmony with each other. It is man, as you call it, woman, child, Human Kingdom who has given the most severe damage because of the ability to create physical manifestation of negativity. The creation of physical manifestation of negativity is highly developed within The Human Kingdom, not as highly developed in other kingdoms. Nonetheless, it does not mean that it is not developed in other kingdoms. The Mineral Kingdom has done its share of creating damage to the physical planet. All of the other kingdoms ~ The Animal Kingdom, The Plants and The Air and The Fire and all of the forms that energy take, have contributed to where the earth now finds itself.

The earth is simply the overall encasement that houses all of the energies. The earth, as an energy, is the house for this training ground, and therefore, every energy in the house contributes to the appearance of the house and the health of the house. That is how you would perhaps view it, my son.

I was wondering if there were other beings, unaware to us, that have been contributing, not perceptible to our senses, and perhaps they exist and are doing so, as well. For instance, dolphins have ultrasonic capabilities manipulating matter under water. Perhaps they have been damaging the oceans.

We have just given you our answer, my son, to that question. We have indicated that all the kingdoms have had an impact upon the planet. That is the answer to that question.

What would The Mineral Kingdom have ever done to damage the planet?

Density, my child. Just because you love crystals does not mean that you would get upset that The Mineral Kingdom could possibly have done anything bad. All kingdoms have an effect upon each other. Mere density alone can create an impact upon the planet. If we refer back to the disaster of recent time, the sheer weight of the collapse created reverberations into the core of the planet. That collapse included members from The Mineral Kingdom. What you call concrete is part of The Mineral Kingdom for it is made from rock, crushed rock, sand and part of The Water Kingdom. Thus, the combination of the two kingdoms brings about another kingdom. Sort of what you would want as a discussion of cross-kingdom pollinating.

You tend to think of it only in terms of animal and human. That is your only ability to frame it. There are other kingdoms that cross pollinate, sometimes for the benefit of the planet and sometimes not. Whether it is beneficial or not is hardly the issue, for it is necessary. Being not beneficial is necessary. It is critical to not be necessary in order for things to become balanced. So, yes, perhaps your favorite crystal that sparkles in your hand and is a little friend to you, has in its current incarnation, been harmless. You see no effect that it would have upon the planet and the cleansing. But remember, that its other incarnations have had effects, just as your other incarnations have had different effects upon the body whole that it might not be having in this particular incarnation.

It is all right to defend The Mineral Kingdom. But, if you were to defend, then, The Mineral Kingdom, you would need to defend every kingdom, for then you would be discriminating, and it is not appropriate, for all kingdoms have had an impact upon each other. No one kingdom is exempt. Some kingdoms have had more of an impact than others ~ in this particular illusion.

The Mineral Kingdom in The Atlantean Illusion had more of an effect upon the final days of Atlantis than The Human Kingdom did. It is a reverse role, if you will. It was The Mineral Kingdom that was in control, and abuse of that control, in the final times of Atlantis. The Human Kingdom had a significant share in this ~ however, proportionately, not as great as The Mineral Kingdom. In other illusions, The Animal Kingdom has been the dominant abuser. It depends on the illusion. It depends on what the stage is set to play.

It is nice to know it is not all our fault.

Well, you know, we have never said that it was. It is no one energy's fault. It is The Universal Consciousness. Ultimately, it is all of us. All energy takes some role in any event that occurs. It just becomes a matter of how dominant the particular role is in a situation, you see. So, are you relieved?

I feel better. Yes.

Indeed. We sense that you still come close to our vibration even though you thought that by sitting close to us, we would pick on you ~ from our last time with you.

Well, I figure if I sit off to the side, I am less likely to get called on ~ the old school technique.

Oh, but there is another assumption. Yes, teachers are onto the tricks of what students attempt to do.

Waith Discusses The Computer Kingdom Energy, And The Atlantean Times Of Abuses
(May 16, 1995)

What do you think about the Internet? What do you think about the, you know, fiber optics and this kind of communication worldwide?

Well, you know, we have humorously mentioned to all of you that when The Shift occurs it is a magnetic change. All that you know now, magnetically, will be erased. There will be, however, a different technology. You must understand that from the time of Atlantis, part of the ending of The Atlantean Illusion resulted in an abuse by computers, as you call them now. But, in that time frame it was a highly developed electronic energy that was, in fact, abusing The Human Kingdom. Part of the thread of that abuse was brought into the illusion you currently are in. It was placed on the back burner, shall we say, until a certain point in the illusion, in which you find yourselves now, was reached, to bring about then, basically, a soul memory of those who had worked with the abuse of the electronic energies in Atlantis. Most who have been responsible for the development of your computers, as you now refer to them, were part of those who were abused by the electronic energy in The Atlantean Illusion.

There are lessons being learned by that particular kingdom that you know as computers. It is an energy kingdom. Some of it will be carried through into The New Illusion. It will be very, very different from what you know now. It is being tested, as all energy is tested, for the use and abuse of its powers. That is where it stands now.

We are unable to comment further on its destiny, shall we say, until certain types of behaviors by The Computer Kingdom have been in place. There is evidence of upcoming abuse upon The Human Kingdom. It has begun already, of course. Many of you have experienced it. It is one of the reasons that you find so many on the plane not wanting to become involved too heavily with computers ~ for the abuses that are possible. It is simply a working through of kingdoms balancing. We have spoken of The Animal Kingdom and The Mineral Kingdom balancing with The Human Kingdom. So too is there a kingdom of energy that you know as electronics, as computers, as those names that have been given to it, fiber and all that sort of naming. It is an energy grouping.

Some of you have issues with that energy grouping and some of you do not. Just like some of you have issues with certain other humans and certain animals and certain minerals, and some of you do not. It goes again to our emphasis on meditation and the finding of answers within to determine if you do, indeed, have a balancing or an issue to work through with a particular energy or energy grouping.

From a human point of view, it is easy to imagine humans using computer energy to abuse other humans. It is more difficult for us to imagine the computer energy itself being abusive.

You would want to speak for yourself in that way, my son, and be careful of making a categorical statement that would include more than yourself in that.

Well, fine. It is hard for me to imagine computer energy being abusive, in and of itself, to humans. I was wondering if you could just be more specific or elaborate on that.

How would you want us to be more specific than we have been?

Well, I guess the question is how would a computer energy abuse a human energy?

How would a human energy abuse a computer energy?

The way I would think of it, if the human energy used their computer energy to abuse another human, that is easy to think of. It would be misusing the energy.

Ah, misusing the power. What type of power does the energy grouping you know as computers have now, in this illusion?

A lot of power in terms of information and communication.

Indeed. And, the manipulation of such. Just as all energy is able to communicate with each other, you must remember that simply because it is in, what you call, a machine does not mean it is unable to communicate. All energy communicates, and therefore, the issue of abuse is always present. The communication of energy in many, many cases occurs at higher levels than in your encasement dimension. In your encasement dimension now, many of you are unable to communicate face to face. Thus, it would, for many, appear to be an impossibility that a machine could control.

But what you might want to do sometime is experience what happens at a time when food is required, and you go to this change machine to get change for the other machines that will take the change, and you only have paper, and the machine is broken. You cannot get change. You think that that just happens? You think that that is not a controlling issue by machines? Simply watch the type of control that, what you call, inanimate objects has upon you as humans.

Our science fiction writers have written a lot about that.

The Concept Of Community And Living And Working In Harmony With Other Kingdoms (March 05, 1996)

We, as you know, have planned for this earth plane year to be one of meditation discussion, and this particular month is devoted to the discussion of community and meditation techniques to help in the formation of communities. Francis, who speaks with us, will be coming in during the next session to speak with you. This particular session, we will give you information as a prelude to what Francis will give you in the next session, and he will then also give you the technique that is very useful in the formation of community. We will give to you some beginnings of the Concept of Community. Francis will follow up with that discussion in the next session.

So, the question becomes uppermost in many minds as to, "What does a discussion of community have to do with the SEARCH FOR SELF?" Well, in order to find Self, you must find your relationship with those around you and learn to live with those around you. You cannot find Self in a vacuum. Ultimately, you find Self within Self, yes. However, the way in which you apply the knowledge you learn about Self ~ within Self ~ is best utilized within the context of community.

Many entities think that community means all human beings coming together, or all animals coming together, or all of The Mineral Kingdom coming together. That is one component, surely, of community. However, the more comprehensive view of community relates to integration of all of the kingdoms. The more members of a kingdom that you can bring into your life, the more harmonious you will become within Self.

Remember that we have given a discussion on your Energy Circle, that Circle of Community that is part of your sojourn on the earth plane, and that a member from each of the kingdoms is part of each of your Energy Circles. You all work in harmony to complete the lessons that you have set out to learn. Thus, community at the earth plane level is simply a very concrete manifestation of your Energy Circle.

The more you gather around you from different kingdoms, the more harmonious you become within Self ~ the more sensitized you become to your own issues ~ as well as those around you. For the issues that you each come in to learn relate to others. The issues you come in to learn are not just within Self. They are in balance with others. If you did not have to balance with other energy forms, you would have no reason to even be out of the Universal Consciousness. The answers come from within Self, but the application of those answers must come within the community context. Coexisting with other humans is difficult. Coexisting with many other members of other kingdoms is even more difficult for some. For some, they would rather coexist with every other kingdom except The Human Kingdom.

We have been privy to conversations of late where human members claim their preference for The Animal Kingdom or The Mineral Kingdom. "They are nonjudgemental. They do not talk back." Well, yes, they do. They have their own very specific ways of creating the scenarios that bring about the working through of issues ~ the balancing. No one kingdom is in control, however, over another kingdom. And those are the issues that come up in the formation of community. For while many in The Human Kingdom think that they have the power, and the hierarchical power at that, over all of the other kingdoms, that is simply not the case.

Think through on the power that other kingdoms have. Think of the air. Think of plants. Think of minerals. Think of animals. Think of fire. Think of anything that is around you, and it has certain abilities to project its will upon you. The goal is that there is no attempt, and there is no reason to project will upon another. It is the most important lesson to learn, being out of The One, not to project will upon another. The Animal Kingdom attempts to do it quite often. They are quite good at it, as any of you know who have animals who share your life. The Electronic Kingdom, what you call these computers, very much can exert their will upon you and control you. The goal, then, in the development of your own Self, the search for your Self, must exist within the context of community. You must include as many members of the community around you as you can possibly house.

In our discussions of the Energy Circle, we indicated that the decision must be made by the entire Circle as to the progression of the path, and that you would exchange roles within your Energy Circle, and that there was no particular order in which you took on a particular kingdom, contrary to what many think on the plane that The Human Kingdom is the superior kingdom, that it is the only kingdom that knows how to feel and think and reason. "It is the only kingdom that knows how to make a decision." Well, this is a falsehood. Every energy form knows how to make a decision. The fact that it exists was a decision that was made.

Thus, becoming part of a community is a lesson in humility for humans and a lesson in understanding for the other kingdoms who must, at least in this current illusion, tolerate the comings and goings in the other kingdoms as they apply to themselves. For example, The Mineral Kingdom must tolerate the comings and goings of The Animal Kingdom that may choose to abuse a rock. They find a rock that they like and they use it as their personal hygienic station ~ or a tree, or a plant, or a bush, you see.

Let us look at the journey within Self as it relates to community. Take a deep breath, my loved ones and release the breath. Take another deep breath and release that. Breathe in and hold it for a moment and then release it. Now where did that breath come from? The breath is a kingdom. The breath is a part of the human encasement, but it is its own kingdom. As you breathed in and held it, and breathed out, you felt a sense of release. As you work in harmony with the breath, it enables you to focus yourself. It enables you to bring your thoughts into a sense of quietness. The breath, then, is working in harmony with the other components of the body that make up kingdoms. You each, as humans, are wrapped within many, many subkingdoms.

The Human Kingdom Needs The Assistance Of Many Other Kingdoms In Able To Function
(March 05, 1996)

The Human Kingdom is not, in and of itself, able to function. It must have the assistance of many other kingdoms, breath being one of them. For energy forms that need breath, such as animals, that is a kingdom that is part of the composition of the energy form. All energy breathes. It simply needs different kingdoms that assist it to breathe. The Mineral Kingdom breathes differently from The Human Kingdom. All of the ways in which The Human Kingdom exist in its physical encasement also applies to all of the other kingdoms, except in different forms. Even the breath as a kingdom has subkingdoms.

All Kingdoms Have Subkingdoms, Which Has Subkingdoms, Infinite (March 05, 1996)

Thus, a kingdom will have subkingdoms in order to maintain itself. The subkingdom becomes, however, a kingdom which then has subkingdoms. Every subkingdom is a kingdom and has subkingdoms. The Human Kingdom is a subkingdom to a higher kingdom. Interdimensionally, now, we are discussing the concept. You move interdimensionally into a higher kingdom, but you are the subkingdom to that higher kingdom. As you sit here in this gathering you are helping a higher kingdom to exist. That higher kingdom that you help to exist is a subkingdom to a higher kingdom that exists. And thus, it goes. Subkingdom within kingdom within subkingdom within kingdom ~ infinite.

The ultimate kingdom is the Universal Consciousness. All exists to the benefit of The One. All exists to the benefit of each other. We all exist to be each other. Without one, there is none. That is how the connection is maintained. The fine energy thread that connects each of us to the Universal Consciousness, while we are outside of it, if broken, creates havoc in the totality of energy. Oftentimes, those threads are broken, and that is topic for another discussion. When it occurs, the community of the Universal Consciousness is severely disrupted ~ momentarily, nonetheless, severely disrupted.

Do not think that what you do, you do in isolation. It is impossible to exist in isolation. We are all part of community. The harmony comes when you realize the interconnectedness and you accept everything around you as YOU, as part of who you are. The rug that gives of itself for you to be comfortable is energy and is part of the Universal Consciousness ~ just as a plant, just as a mineral, just as the flowers, are all part of the Universal Consciousness.

The Concept Of Community And The Journey To More Consciously Connect With Other Kingdoms That Are Part Of Your Energy Circle (March 05, 1996)

As you journey within Self, one of your goals is to connect more consciously with your Energy Circle ~ to become more attuned to those energies who are part of other kingdoms that have become part of your Energy Circle, and they with you. That is the Concept of Community.

It is very nice to have you all gather at our sessions and to have you all feel what you call these warm fuzzies, where you are pleased to be with others who think like you. That is very important. But that is the easy part. It is very easy to connect with other humans, or other animals, or other minerals, or other plants, or other carpeting, or chairs or toys, that you have a connection with that you feel harmony with. That is easy because you have had connections with those energies in other lifetimes and you have memories that bring those lifetimes into a sense of connectedness in this particular lifetime. What becomes more difficult is searching out all those other energies that are important to your existence, and yet, you either have dismissed them as unimportant, or you do not want to admit that you are connected, or you have had some past lifetime experience that was negative and has created a sense of imbalance.

Why is it, that when you meet a particular animal, they may wag their tail and be very happy with you, and the person next to you, they will growl at. There are reasons for that ~ that are energy connections. We all exist within each other, and yet we exist outside of each other, and therein lies what you call this paradox. How do we exist within each other, and yet, outside of each other?

This is what going within Self helps you to learn, helps you to synthesize. The journey within Self allows you, then, to connect with your Energy Circle, which then allows you to connect with higher levels of Energy Circles, which then allows you to truly connect with the Universal Consciousness and The Oneness, and to even move into subkingdoms and subkingdoms, and kingdoms of the subkingdoms, and subkingdoms of the kingdoms, to have a better understanding of the flow of your own path as it relates to the flow of another's path, be it human or any other.

Be careful of dismissing anything around you as inanimate ~ not worthy of respect. Everything is energy. The consciousness that a particular object may have will be different from the human consciousness. Each kingdom has its own type of consciousness. When you are in The Human Kingdom, you are in the human consciousness. When you are a rock, you have the rock consciousness. When you are a pillow, you have the pillow consciousness. There is nothing superior or inferior in this discussion. It is simply different ~ different consciousness ~ all storing memories, all storing knowledge.

The more you are able to tap into your own soul's journey from kingdom to subkingdom, to kingdom to subkingdom, the better you are in your return back to the Universal Consciousness ~ the easier your journey becomes. And if, by some fortunate chance, you have taken on many other kingdoms before coming into The Human Kingdom and are able to connect to those kingdoms while in The Human Kingdom, it makes your journey in The Human Kingdom much more enjoyable ~ much easier. You are able to look at others around you and understand their journey. You may not know what their journey is, but you understand that they journey, just as YOU journey, and you respect that journey. You may not believe it as true for yourself, but you respect it. You may not agree with it, but you respect it because it is the entity's journey.

And we know, indeed, on the earth plane now how difficult it is to respect the journeys of many on the plane, especially those who are in the public limelight, as you call it, who profess hatred, who profess discrimination, who spew out what you might consider negativity. Currently, on the plane, there is much hostility. This is all part of the cleansing. This is all part of the ending of the current illusion. At the same time, there is much Light emerging. You must hold onto this. You must recognize that it is the darkness that is getting the press these days, shall we say. But it is the Light that always wins. It always prevails.

Those who are bringing a great deal of dispute into the energy field of the plane these days are fulfilling their path. Remember, that there must be upheaval in order for there to be balance. It is up to you to hold onto your own Light, your own sense of connectedness, for as much as you would not want to admit it, those who spew out words and ideas that you find abhorrent to your own philosophies, are connected to YOU, for we are all connected.

They may be connected at a very far distance. Nonetheless, they are connected. Just as they are able to have an influence upon you or others, so too can you have an influence upon them. You may not see a direct result of it. But simply, the sending of Light. For just as they are able to send dark thoughts that affect other energy forms, so too are you able to send Light to affect other energy forms. This is what an understanding of community is about.

Now, when Francis comes in, in the next session, he will speak more specifically of community formation on the earth plane. We have given you the Concept of Community, the importance of community. Community is nothing more than connectedness with all energy. Clear your energy fields of the bias that you have that there is a hierarchical order of superiority to energy forms. There is none. You as a human may go into The Plant Kingdom next. You may become a pillow next. Our love, here, is so comfortable on both pillows. She seems to have taken over three! We see from our sensors three pillows there. Perhaps we are missing one. Since you are so comfortable with the pillows, perhaps you would like to switch roles and become a pillow. Or you may already have been a pillow, and now you are simply enjoying the opposite role.

Remember our theme throughout all of our discussions is that no energy form is superior, and you do not know most times where you have been in the scheme of the kingdom building. Certainly then, if you do not know where you have been, you do not know where another has been. The pillows may have been in The Human Kingdom in their last kingdom journey. You do not know. And it is, therefore, the reason why respect must be given to all. For when you become a pillow, you would want to be respected. And if you abuse a pillow as a human, then you certainly will be abused when you become a pillow. Do you understand how this concept works? Respect and love all that surround you, and you will then receive back respect and love. It is a simple philosophy and it is the secret to effective community existence. It is as simple as that. Respect and love Self and then others.

So, why is there so much disrespect and hate on the earth plane? You would ask this question. It is the way of balancing. It is the way of learning to Respect Self. It is the way of learning love, for if you are not respected by another, be it human or any other kingdom that shows you disrespect, it forces you to look within Self to determine why you were treated with disrespect, or why someone levied hatred toward you. It forces you to go within Self to journey to the Higher Self, to the Soul, to the Energy Circle. It is quite simple, and yet, the most complicated of concepts.

That is all that we have for this discussion that we give to you. Would you have questions of us relating to this topic?

What Turns Peace And Harmony Within Some Kingdoms Into Hatred Within Groupings? (March 05, 1996)

I understand your definition of community to be the integration of several kingdoms. I have always wondered why individuals, both in The Animal and The Human Kingdoms, are very peaceful and harmonious until they gather together. Then there tends to be hatred and fighting. Why is this?

Well, you know, you have raised probably the pivotal point in the journey on the earth plane. Yes, in isolation, you are very happy. You have only yourself. You do not have to work with those who might disagree with you, or be at a different point in their journey, so that their awarenesses of Light are different from your awarenesses of Light.

The Human Kingdom is one of the more violent of the kingdoms. The Animal Kingdom is not as violent as The Human Kingdom, even though it seems that it is. The Mineral Kingdom is, actually, of all the kingdoms, the most violent. This goes to show you that you cannot judge a kingdom's existence by your own frame of reference.

And yes, when members of a kingdom get together, there is conflict. That is the way of the earth plane. That is the scenario that has been set up on the earth plane. That is one of the conditions of the earth plane ~ imbalance, conflict. It is the opportunity to come into a training ground that has built into it, conflict, so that you can work through the conflict and become loving and respectful and harmonious. When that occurs, you have completed your journey on the earth plane.

What happens in between is that you meet entities, other humans, who are still in the process of learning respect and love and harmony, and thus, they would view you as different. You have different views, you have different beliefs, you have different attitudes, you look different! You are tall, you are short, you are thin, you are heavy, you are black, you are white, you are pink, you are purple. They would say, "You are different from me, and therefore, you threaten me." This is the mentality. The reason for that mentality is a lack of respect within Self, and therefore, an inability to love. For there is no love within Self strong enough to create confidence in the differences that surround you. Therefore, the tendency is to destroy those who differ, to try and eliminate those who are different. Thus, we have what you call wars ~ conflicts.

The earth plane, except for the very beginnings of each new illusion, always has conflict. That is the way. With the New Illusion about to be setup on the plane, there will be, as we have discussed, a period of harmony and a period of restfulness. And then it all starts again and continues until it reaches the end of the illusion, such as you have now, where exaggerations of the disrespect, exaggerations of the Self-hatred present themselves. So, what you observe is not unusual. It is the way of the earth plane. It is the way in which you build your own harmony. You either become a part of a movement to get rid of the negativity, for that may be the path you have chosen, or you simply work within yourself, and your very small arena of life, to make positive, light-filled changes.

Waith Gives A Meditation To Help You Connect With The Kingdoms Surrounding You (March 05, 1996)

We would begin to prepare for our return to our realm. As we are departing, we would want you to do a bit of focusing, and we will give you a bit of a meditation to help you connect with all of the kingdoms that surround you in this room in which you find yourself.

Relax your body and move your fingers ever so lightly in the air around you. Touch the air around you. Feel the air around you. Call upon The Kingdom of the Breath and pull it into your encasement and hold it, as you caress the air around you. Breathe out, caressing the air, and feeling the breath mingled with the air. Your breath is now part of the air, and you caress the breath and the air that have become one now. Do this once again. Breathe in and hold the breath. Let out the breath and feel it mingling with the air around you. Caress the air around you. The air around you has brought in all of the energy that gathers in the room. Caress the air. You are now caressing all of the energy in the room. You are soothing it and it is soothing you. Slowly, bring your hands down into a comfortable position, touching your body, and feel the energy from your hands penetrate the body. You are filled now with the intermingling of all of the energies. You are one with each other and yet separate. Express your respect and love to Self. Simply feel the respect and the love.

You are peaceful now, and you feel the sense of community with all the energy that surrounds you. You can do this in any spot you find yourself. Become one with the air and then bring in your breath to become one with the air. This will give you a sense of centeredness in any hostile environment you may feel, for you send out respect and love to The Kingdom of the Air and it will return that respect and love to you. As we return to our realm now, relax. Enjoy the sense of Oneness, and we will be with you again soon. We return now and we send to you the very Highest of the White Light from the very Highest of the Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.
