We bring to you all the very highest of the white light from the very highest of The Kingdom of Amelius.

Hello Waith!

We are pleased to be here to chat with you for it is an open forum, if you will. We will now take questions.

The current election fiasco, is that a good example of the exaggeration and the over the top situations that are occurring more frequently because it is the end of the illusion? (Note: The speaker is referring to the Presidential Election of 2000.)

You need to ask an Archangel that? ☺ ☺

I just want confirmation. To me it's ridiculous.

Well then, laugh at it! ☺ It is certainly an exaggeration. As we have indicated for so long now, implosion is what will be occurring within all of the systems. Implosion takes on many forms. Implosion may not be what many would define it as ~ from their own frame of reference.

Implosion occurs when a SYSTEM completely collapses within itself ~ from its own exaggeration where it no longer works, because of abuses. This particular situation was predictable and meant to happen so that this point in the illusion could be reached.

There is nothing negative about implosion for it is simply the way that the flow of energy has to occur in order for the planet and its vibration to reach its own cleansing and do its own implosion ~ which is the shifting of its axis. So we recommend that you sit back and enjoy it. ☺

So that would include also whoever ends up getting this election?

It matters not who ends up being elected.

It will be the person who was supposed to get in for whatever is supposed to happen?

Indeed. All that appears is not what it really is, you see. An illusion has been created and not to worry about time frames.

(Note: Waith next refers to a member of the gathering) My son, you had a query of Mushiba not too long ago about who she had said ~ and we confirmed ~ would be the leader of America going into The New Illusion. You are saying that he is nowhere in site, "Where is he ~ he is not in line for this presidency." Well, we never said it would be the presidency ~ we said it would be the leader for The New Illusion.

As we have been saying, the majority of entities will wake up one morning and be in The New Illusion and there will be leaders. Some will remember and some will not. This entity will be coming into the spotlight after this current fiasco has run its course.

You mentioned that an event would be occurring. Is this the event that you were referring to?

No it is not, my love. We were referring to a natural Earth event occurring in that which you call the Middle East. It has yet to occur ~ it is imminent. And remember IMMINENT in OUR frame of reference. It will be the signal of the end of this next to the last stage with another event following it quickly that signals the beginning of the final stage before The Shift. There is still several years on the earth plane until The Shift.

We are very cautious about giving any kind of definitive time. We caution you to be wary of any who would give you a definitive time ~ however, it is imminent.

Anything that occurs now is an exaggeration of itself. It is not possible for anything at the end of an illusion to be anything except exaggeration. You are all living in an environment where you know nothing other than exaggeration.

That is for our whole life?

Indeed, for the entire life. The exaggerations began three hundred to five hundred earth plane years ago and have accelerated in the past one hundred earth plane years and that has accelerated exponentially every year.

Each year that you are living, from the time that you have come into this illusion, you have lived in accelerated exaggeration. You know not what would be called STABILITY in an illusion.

If someone is a farmer, for example, and his life is predictable. He get up each day, plants his crop, comes home, food's on the table, reads the paper, goes to sleep and then plays the whole cycle over again, day after day. Is that an example of stability? In other words, is my frame of reference is off, if I am looking for something that might be in that area.

The world around you is exaggerated. The life that a particular energy may choose could not necessarily have to be exaggerated. They may be living what we refer oftentimes to as a VACATION LIFE in which there is not a great deal of issue resolution. That needs to be placed into a comparison to the world around in which one lives.

Many entities choose the end of an illusion to come in as an opportunity to accelerate their own lesson learning. And by accelerating their own lesson learning, they come into an accelerated environment so that they are accelerated in an already accelerated environment.

However, there are many who choose not to do that ~ they come in, in what you would call nonaccelerated, even though the world around them is accelerated. So the reference that you make, the farmer whose life may be very stable who potentially watches the same television, reads the same publications, that you do, and sees the acceleration ~ and has no other frame of reference.

So when we say that you are in the frame of reference of acceleration, for some of you it is your life as well as the world around you and for others, it is simply the world around, you see. So that would be perhaps what you were trying to clear.

There are many entities who simply observe the world around them and are not particularly affected by the events ~ many who live in relative isolation from that which you call the mass media. However even those who would live in relative isolation are still subjected to the exaggerations of the Earth. So no matter where any entity happens to find themselves on the Earth, they would be part of the Earth's own exaggerations in its attempt to clean itself.

It is difficult to escape nature, as you call it. It will be hot when it should be cold, cold when it should be hot ~ our famous words from the very beginning of our discussions through Mushiba.

Why is everything exaggerated at the end of an illusion?

It is a built in mechanism that we refer to as The Portfolio of Illusions, and part of the setup will be different illusions with different staging, different packaging for the same issues.

This Portfolio of Illusions has a run of approximately one million earth plane years. The current illusion, for example, has a run of approximately ten thousand earth plane years. The most recent past illusion, Atlantis, ran for approximately thirty to fifty thousand years, with sub illusions in it.

In order for an illusion to end and another one to start up, it was determined that there would be, as best as we can describe it, A SNAPPING of the current flow of energy of lesson learning ~ to stop its current illusion and allow it to move into a new flow of energy.

As you move through an illusion, it is like a rubber band ~ as you move toward the end, the rubber band begins to stretch and stretch and becomes exaggerated in its length and the exaggeration then enables it, eventually, to snap. This is the easiest analogy that we can give you in terms of why exaggeration is necessary. It is also part of bringing out of balance, what occurs at the beginning of an illusion.

At the beginning of an illusion there is relative harmony, as best as can be experienced on the earth plane, which is a training ground set up to be disharmonious. In order to bring the balance between the beginning and the end of an illusion, there must then be an imbalance of the balance that occurred at the beginning.

So there is tremendous imbalance, which brings exaggeration, in many cases of a negative issue, as perceived by some who say, "Oh, the political system is falling apart ~ this is a bad thing." We do not perceive it as such. From our perspective, it is simply that the illusion now is bringing its own Self into balance and to do that it must snap.

At the time that it snaps, the Earth's axis shifts ~ it all happens simultaneously ~ and most on the plane will not be aware of its physical component. It snaps ~ the new rubber band is established. It places itself at the beginning of the illusion to come ~ and The New Illusion is relatively harmonious and stable for it has not begun to be stretched.

Many of you have experienced all points in an illusion ~ the beginning, the ending, the middle ~ all very different types of energy flow. And most who would read our information or hear our words are those who have taken on accelerated learning and superimposed that upon an environment that is accelerating exponentially, moment by moment from a linear perspective.

Did the people used to live very differently than we do today.

Yes.

We could never, as we are now, go backwards and live the way that they did, is that correct?

It is interesting to plug into conversations on the earth plane now in terms of superiority of technology, lifestyle, and quality of life in general and hear the comment, "Ten thousand years ago, there was not even a human being on the planet."

Remember that it is the illusion that is being created ~ that comparatively speaking each section of life or time frame of life of which you are aware, has its own frame of reference to the past.

Those who you look at in the past also have a past that they look at that is different from what you are looking at. Your past, in this particular component of this illusion, has been created by The Mass Consciousness for its own purposes ~ The Mass Consciousness being all of you, at some higher level, simultaneously existing as we currently speak to you.

Now then, do you think that living in a cave is primitive?

For me, it would be primitive right now.

Indeed. Would it be primitive for them?

No, because that's their way of life.

Indeed. Would they consider their life to be LESS THAN?

No, evidently not.

Well, if they were looking at a past, such as you look at them as a past, and say, "Ah-h-h, we are BETTER THAN," they too would have an illusion of a past that would say, "We are living better than our past." It is illusion created so as to give, once again, the illusion of progress ~ and it is all relative. Within an illusion there, then, are segments designed to create an illusion of progress when in actuality, they are sub illusions.

We have referred to the Atlantean Illusion as being a series of sub illusions ~ there were actually three, what could be called, major illusions within the Atlantean time. So Atlantis existed as an illusion, it is one of the longer illusions in The Portfolio, and it existed as a major illusion for thirty to fifty thousand earth plane years. Within that were three major segments, one being the past to another, and even the first thought it had a past ~ it was given that illusion.

It is part of the game and it is set up that you would have an understanding of the concept that states, "We have achieved this" ~ in comparison to something that occurred in the past. Once the illusion is over, all of those frames of reference get packed away. In The New Illusion, you will have a past and it will seem perfectly normal.

And so The New Illusion will begin and about a third of the way through, in this coming illusion, there will be a major kind of shifting that will occur where suddenly there will be rather dramatic advances. It will be very similar although not as dramatic as what is about to occur where everyone will go to sleep, wake up and everything is perfectly normal, and yet it will have changed. And the past then will have been changed.

The past that you know now is different than the past of two thousand earth plane years ago. We have indicated that with the entry of the entity known as Jesus was the beginning of setting up the closure for this current illusion and that there was tremendous energy fluxes occurring with this particular energy. He was given the job of creating the closure energy and as a result of that, there was a different past put in place.

I have a question that concerns the housekeeping on a worldwide scale. If we are going to go to sleep one night and wake up and the illusion change will have taken place, what about everybody on the planet, their houses, their belongings, their baby pictures. Is somebody just going to wave the magic wand and whiz, everything is going to be in place.

That is pretty much how it happens, my love.

In other words, for those of us who don't remember, we won't be living in the same house, we won't be wearing the same clothes, we won't have the same siblings or husbands or kids or whatever, necessarily. What is going to happen to all of the debris, all of the stuff?

It goes into storage.

Is it just going to whiz away?

Yes that is it. Everything goes into storage when this illusion goes back into The Portfolio and when this illusion comes back again on the earth plane in one million years or so, it will bring with it all of the so called stuff that you refer to. It will be packaged a bit differently ~ it will be cleaned out, it will be refurbished, just as you would any stage.

Like Spring housecleaning.

In a sense, yes. Understand that at the highest levels of running The Universe there is the ability ~ with not even what you would call a thought form, simply the ability ~ to change things. Many of you have experienced and have heard of Angelics suddenly appearing at an accident scene and then disappearing. It is as easy as that.

We in The Angelics have been delegated to be in charge of the illusion change. We receive our orders, if you will from the five who run The Universe and from the five Lead Energies ~ and we simply can change things. We can replace, we can add, we can delete, and no one will know. It is normal where you will say, "Ah-h-h, it has always been like this."

You see the concreteness and think it is so firm. It is not, it is simply illusion ~ created by The Mass Consciousness and implemented by a chain of command, if you will. All of you have said, "I am sitting on a sofa" and that is the general agreement that The Mass Consciousness has said, and so you buy into that when you come into this illusion. You say, "Yes, I am part of The Mass Consciousness ~ I helped create this illusion ~ I am one of the creators."

You are all creators and, therefore, the conditions of coming into this illusion require that you believing, for example that you see the sofa and sit on it for it is very concrete. However, it is not.

Are illusions recycled?

Oh yes ~ why reinvent the wheel, as you might say. ☺

We'll be inheriting somebody else's junk then, potentially?

You are inheriting, in some sense, someone else's junk. In many, many cases your own, for you have been in the illusion. ☺

Many entities, in fact, wait. For example, in this illusion, you are here, you have decided that you want to live this illusion again because of unresolved issues in the packaging of this illusion. You may go into a few other illusions, play around a bit, yet, you purposely wait for this illusion to come back on the earth plane, and jump in where you left off.

So this is not the first time this particular illusion has come?

Oh, indeed, not!

It is not like done once and gone forever.

Oh no, not at all. ☺

Is it literally like changing the dial on the radio ~ we just tune into another. Right now as we are talking, The New Illusion is being set up. Well it is already playing out ~ we just turn the dial and go on another station. We are just not focused then on this illusion, we just temporarily focus on another and then at some point, we say, "Let us go back to 88.5," and there it is. It is just more like a receiving and transmitting thing. We just play the dials to what we want to tune into and then play it out there. And then we choose radio stations saying, "Oh I like to hear this, I like to be there." We just change back like that! And nothing disappears, we just are not tuned into it.

That is a good way of stating it. Yes.

And that is why everything then happens at the same time because we are just not tuned in and everything continues to play out and emit and we just change focus on where we want to tune in. And those who remember, basically can listen to two channels at the same time.

Actually, many channels at the same time. ☺

And those who are tuned in, like psychics, just have the ability to focus on more than one and kind of turn the dial and say, "I am listening to that for a moment."

There is nothing glamorous about being able to focus on more than one station at a time. It can be very disconcerting unless you have deliberately chosen to follow that path. It creates its own set of issues, also, of abuse ~ and that is another discussion. ☺

I believe that our consciousness encodes in the DNA. Yet, is there also a mass consciousness that is factoring in? And where can I as an individual, actually begin to change my own DNA because isn't that also what brings the biology up to speed, to live in this kind of illusion?

The Mass Consciousness controls the illusion ~ and all of you are The Mass Consciousness. The issue of what is called energy lines, as those on the plane would call the family line, the DNA, where you say, "We live in the family and inherit certain traits and a certain energy."

Some entities make a decision that they will incarnate into a particular energy line, or a family, if you will, and that they will become their own descendants, if you will. ☺

DNA is controlled by The Mass Consciousness and, thus, DNA can be controlled by Self. It simply takes a particular skill that is developed over many lifetimes in order to work with The Mass Consciousness to bring about a change in your own DNA, if you even want to do that.

Making this type of change requires discussion with your Energy Circle, and we refer you back to that particular discussion. (Note: See the Waith Manuscript, EARTH PLANE CONNECTION.) Not quite as simple a process when you consider that you have thousands, potentially, in your Energy Circle all with a vote. However, the potential is there. ☺

So I as an individual, could decide in this moment to no longer want certain traits or to want to acquire certain traits that then get encoded in me?

Not alone.

So I have to basically, then, if I were to want that, call upon my ancestral lineage?

That would be a part of the process. Your ancestral lineage would be your Energy Circle, partly. Having The Energy Circle agree on any ONE thing is a challenge, for that is the way that The Energy Circle is set up ~ that is the purpose, so that the lessons can be learned through NOT AGREEING, you see. As The Energy Circle develops, however, and becomes more resolved in its own issues, the ability to agree becomes greater ~ that is also part of the setup and the design.

So basically, we are living coded for a particular biological integrity within this illusion that all have agreed upon, to say, "that's what we are going to play out." And in The New Illusion, we go back to the drawing table at our higher levels and say, "well, how about we give these things a possibility and we let that come to play out."

Indeed. That is the way that it occurs. There are many things that cannot just be changed arbitrarily within an illusion ~ and there are many that can be.

So in terms of when our scientists now do genetic changes or so, is that part of this blueprint or is that actually then going against the biological integrity?

It is part of the blueprint. Everything that occurs has a reason. What you see as new technology ~ or so called new technology ~ is simply evidence of The New Illusion. And the reason that you are seeing it right now is that those who are part of it will be bringing it into The New Illusion in some way.

So what I am hearing is, we are right now, actually preparing to meet our decisions that we already have made, in the future.

Indeed. It is as simple as that. ☺ This topic is a higher level of discussion because it goes then to SIMULTANEOUS VERSUS INDIVIDUAL and all occurring at the same time and yet not ~ and that there is setup occurring now as predetermined by The Mass Consciousness and final decisions to be made at the transition time. Some decisions have already been put into place. Others are awaiting the final shake out, if you will, of those who will be actually staying for The New Illusion.

Is this like a democratic process where everybody goes in and says, “Oh, let’s do this, oh, let’s do that, or how about this, how about that?” Who has a say in what is going to be?

We would refer you to our discussion of The Universe and how it is run. We jokingly refer to Amelius as having the choke collar on us. He is one of the five currently designated to be the final decision makers, if you will, as deemed by The Universal Consciousness, or The Mass Consciousness. And so those five are ultimately given the responsibility by The Mass Consciousness to take all of the discussion and bring it into some type of form.

So, they are having difficulties between the electoral and the popular votes? ☺

You COULD use that as analogy, however, it is not quite that arbitrary because there is harmony that exists.

It is more of a corporation.

The only frame of reference that you have is what you have just given. There is a vibrational harmony that occurs within The Universal Consciousness that does not exist in what you call the popular vote on the earth plane. And there is then the ability for The Universal Consciousness to become very harmonious. It is rare that there is disagreement because as we have said in the past, it is very boring in The One, because everyone agrees. ☺

It is not even an issue of agreeing or disagreeing, it is simply an issue that says, “Oh yes, that is the way that it needs to be and now Amelius and your crew, it is up to you to implement.” And so those who run The Universe are really the implementers ~ they are charged with the dirty work. ☺ The decisions are essentially agreed upon at The Universal Consciousness level ~ and then the five have their job ahead of them. And we think that is the best way to frame it for you.

It is more complex than that and yet it is really quite simple. At the highest levels there is harmony. There is not even an issue of disagreement. Yes, they all have a vote, as you would call it, yet they all agree. That is why energy tries to get out of The One as quickly as they can because it is so boring in there ~ it is more fun outside The One. ☺ ☺

Do not spend too much time obsessing about the information that we have given to you. Simply know that all is illusion ~ and illusion is concrete and yet it is abstract and that the illusion is an illusion! ☺ And on that, we depart, reminding you once again that The Universal Consciousness is an illusion.

We send to you all the very highest of the white light from the very highest of The Kingdom of Amelius. Farewell.

Thank you, Waith.
