Inquiry About Finding Successful Employment After Getting A Degree

When I finish this degree, I am working on, will I be successful in finding a full-time position?

This course of study you pursue is partially beneficial to you. You can do whatever you want. I am not giving out any words of wisdom here. Each entity can do what they so choose to do. The difference between those entities who are successful, and those who are not, is that opportunities are presented to everyone every day, and it is by recognizing these opportunities as opportunities and seeing them, as something that you can grab onto, is the difference. It becomes easier to recognize your opportunities as you become more in tune with your Higher Self, as you become aware of The Oneness that is in you with The Creator. We see no reason why you cannot obtain a position if your attitude is correct.

We see a position possibly for you. It would not have the financial package that you might want. However, we see it as an opportunity for you to move into the area of interest that you have. It would present itself in a relatively short time frame, as we see time from this dimension, within one year on the earth plane. It will be your decision whether you will take this and see it as an opportunity.

Marvelous opportunities are so often disguised, which is why people do not see them for what they are. They are looking for very specific things, and The Universe sends you things packaged differently than what you might suspect. It is why being in touch with the Higher Self is so critical, because it opens up your awarenesses and it helps you to see beyond senses to which you are accustomed, and it helps you to see situations differently.

This particular opportunity will be in what appears to be a small organization or company. It is what is called a ground floor opportunity for you, a company that is new and will offer you an opportunity to grow with the company. There will not be much money at first, and this may deter you from it, and in fact you may not recognize it for what it is. Perhaps with my signaling, you now may look out for it. It will be in an area of business that is manufacturing. They will be manufacturing something related to children. And you will be presented with the position of potential tremendous growth. We see that as one possibility for you. There are many others that you will open up for yourself.

You have tremendous potential. Your talents are tremendous. You received a very strong musical talent. I encourage you to follow the path of music in some way. It suits your vibration. We see you as a creative soul who has yet to realize your full creative potential. You were an artist in a lifetime in France and you made a good living at it. You were successful, unlike many artists. You were popular with the upper class. You rose from the lower class as you came into that life and became the darling of the upper class and produced paintings. And you encouraged the creative outlet by having many friends who were artists of various sorts, who were musicians, and they would gather at your home. And your home was a gathering place for the artists during that time frame which was approximately one thousand years ago on the earth plane ~ quite a while ago.

Helping People With Alcohol And Drug Related Issues ~ Learning Tolerance

I have been troubled by people with alcohol and drug related problems. I keep being told of them ~ reminded of them ~ the same people. And I feel like I should be doing something, and I really do not know what it is. Or if I know, I am afraid to do it. I keep running into these alcohol-drug problems ~ people that really need help. And I do not know what to do other than to shake them, you know, and that will not work.

They are being presented to you, my dear, as you know already, for lessons to be learned. Very specifically, in your case, it is to help you to gain a tolerance for the imperfections of the earthbound. You, yourself, have dealt with this in another life. And you simply need to sensitize yourself and be nonjudgemental and realize that each of these individuals is dealing with lessons themselves to balance their own lives. And what they need from you is not judgement ~ rather, love and nonjudgement. They are trying, as each soul is trying, to deal with issues that they have brought into this life to learn ~ to balance. Some are doing it more successfully than others.

And your soul ~ you ~ have chosen to be in touch with these individuals ~ to be surrounded by these people, because your soul wants to learn tolerance. And thus, it is occurring. Look within yourself as to why you feel an impatience with them, as to why you want to shake them, and try to understand why you feel this way about them, and what it is about yourself that you see in them. Is that not homework for the week?

Thank you. That is enough homework for the week. I feel one of them is being told he is going to die. He is so obese from all the drinking. I am feeling ~ again, I know ~

Would you want to take on his lesson for him?

No, that is okay. 😊 No, no, no.

Send him Unconditional Love. He is learning lessons. He has chosen this. He is meeting himself.

So, it is not me that has to help him with the alcohol problem.

My dear, how can you?

Yes. I cannot.

You send them love ~ you be nonjudgemental ~ because your vibration will send off the judgement, and that will deter them. They are having enough struggles as it is. And while your judgement will not make a difference drastically, it is one more issue that they will have to deal with.

Your vibration is so strong, my dear. You must realize that you are not average, and you send out strong vibrations. When you are being judgemental, and when you are being loving, people react to that without realizing it at the Higher Level. Love them as entities. You do not have to like them. You do not have to be buddies with them. Rather, send them the Unconditional Love that all entities deserve ~ one entity to another ~ that they may learn the lesson that they need to learn, and especially this gentleman who will have to leave the earth plane soon. It is time, and his lessons are over for this lifetime. So simply send him the Light that he makes the transition and passes into our dimension. He has guides who are watching out for him. As you know, concern yourself not with the lessons that others are having to learn for themselves ~ rather, with the lessons that you have to learn for yourself.

I was given a book by a friend this week, by Isabel Hickey, called It's All Right, and it talks about this issue of alcoholism ~ like you have just said ~ talking about praying for other people. So, I guess that has come to me two ways then. Thank you.

You are welcome. And I have simply supported what you already knew.

How Long Will It Take To Achieve Happiness? ~ Trusting In The Universe

Could you tell me how long it is going to take me to achieve happiness, both emotionally and financially, 😊 and psychologically, and within a relationship? Why are you smiling? Is it that funny?

Because of the impatience that you express ~ I smile because of the ~ at the desires that you have for happiness ~ looking at happiness as a goal that you must work for rather than happiness as something that you achieve gradually on a day-by-day basis.

I am always interested in this word happiness. We see it very differently here than the earth plane. To define happiness in earth plane terminology is very limited. True happiness, as you would call it ~ or as we would call it, Oneness with The Creative Force ~ is something that is achieved slowly through eternity. And you achieve degrees of this as you experience different dimensions along your path toward Oneness with The Creator. As you become more in tune with the God that is within you, you will begin to feel more contentment. And contentment within yourself brings about a peace that many times can be interpreted as happiness.

When you are truly at peace with yourself in each incarnation on the earth plane, and each experience in other dimensions, as you become at peace with yourself, you are achieving a step further along the path toward Oneness with The Creator. And the lessons that each soul takes on, whether on the earth plane or in another dimension, there is a state of equilibrium that is the goal. There is a state of tension when one comes into a particular experience, because of lessons that have been determined to be learned. And as those lessons are learned, and as there is a balancing and an acceptance with The Universe as to what the mission of the Soul is in that particular lifetime, there becomes a balancing and a contentment.

As a soul learns the lesson, whether it is in this lifetime or it takes several lifetimes, there is a moving toward equilibrium. And once the lesson has been learned, there is a balancing and there is what is called contentment ~ or being at peace. And then the Soul, wanting to grow further, will take on another lesson, and a new goal is worked toward, and there is a state of disequilibrium ~ a state of tension once again. And as the achievement ~ the working toward the balancing and the learning of the lesson ~ as that is achieved, a state of contentment takes over.

And the more advanced an individual soul becomes, the more accumulated this peace becomes ~ the more content ~ so that when you see an entity, you see a soul who seems to be at peace or feels content, you are looking at a very advanced soul. And true contentment ~ final contentment ~ is only achieved when all of the lessons have been learned and the box is empty. There are no longer any lessons to be learned and it is time to become One with The Creative Force.

So, to answer one of your questions, when will you achieve happiness ~ that will happen when you become One with The Creative Force. However, from an earth plane situation, your striving for happiness will be achieved if you begin to look within yourself for the answers rather than from those outside of you, and begin to see that your attitude will affect the people around you and the way that they react to you.

You are a very joyful spirit ~ you are a free spirit ~ and your energies are vibrant ~ and you need to grab hold of your energies and use them in a beneficial, positive way. You can contribute much to the betterment of those around you, if you so choose to, because you are not afraid to take on a challenge. You basically will jump into something with both feet and say, "I will do this." This is a fine way to behave, if you also balance yourself by becoming more in tune with your Spiritual Centers and using the abilities that you have and the energies that you have within a spiritual context.

Do not be concerned about money. This is a tremendous concern on the earth plane. You must be concerned about doing things right, because if you do things right, what you need is given to you. The Universe provides what you need if you trust in The Universe. What you think you need and what The Universe decides you need may not be the same thing. And if you try to go against The Universe, you will have problems, if you are going against what your soul has determined to be the path for you in this lifetime, and you try to fight that rather than flow with it. You may achieve short term gain. It will not give you happiness, as you define it. You must work with your soul.

Therefore, it is important to have an attunement with your Higher Self, to be able to meditate on a daily basis, so that this tremendous energy that you have ~ it is beautiful ~ can be channelled for your benefit, can be channelled into the purpose that your soul has set out for in this life. And if you become attuned to your soul's purpose, everything else will fall into place. Your relationships ~ you will be able to see and understand the meaning with your relationships. And you will begin to see that everything around you is presented to you for a reason. And you can begin to view even what appears to be adversity as something positive, because it is a growth opportunity for you.

You have a very loving entity ~ female vibration ~ who is here in this lifetime to help you. She is near you. She is a very advanced soul. You can learn from her. You have not yet recognized her as being someone who can help you in your soul's path and in your life path in this incarnation. You see her as a friend, which she is. However, the potential is there. She is a soul mate for you.

And as with everything on the earth plane, the opportunities are presented, and each soul has free will to do what they desire to do. You can achieve anything that you desire, if you work with The Universe rather than against it. It is a difficult concept for many to understand, to trust in The Universe. Those who have this trust will tell you of the joys that come from it. "Putting it out to The Universe,” as the popular saying goes on the earth plane, is putting your thought out to The Universe. It may not come back as you expect. However, what you need, you will receive, as long as you trust. Your energies are most vibrant.

Inquiry About Personal Past Life Situations ~ Lesson Of Impatience

Would you tell me what I was before?

What you were before.

Real quick! Yes, you are most cute. ☺ You have this impatience in you that comes from a lifetime many, many thousands of years ago during the time of Atlantis ~ the beginning of Atlantis. You were an entertainer, as it would be called in this lifetime. And you were left at a very young age to take care of yourself. You would be in the streets singing and dancing, doing things for passersby who would give you food. You learned at a very young age how to take care of yourself. And in this lifetime, it developed in you a feeling of being on the edge, never knowing what was coming next. And this feeling of having to do things quickly, before it was taken from you, developed and it has carried through in your lifetimes.

Your lives on the earth plane have not been all that numerous. You are what we would call a young soul on the earth plane. All Energy Forces are the same age, if you would use that term, because all energy came from The One at the same time. However, all the Energy Forces then chose to go into the many millions of dimensions that there are ~ the earth plane is only one.

The reason that you have this impatience ~ this feeling of always having to get it done quickly and in as little time as possible ~ comes from the fact that you have not a great deal of experience in the earth body. You have chosen to develop in other areas of your soul's growth on other planets and in other dimensions. You have just recently in the last two to three thousand earth years decided to give it a shot on the earth plane. And so, you have had a limited number of experiences here, and you are going through what we might call the beginner's peril. You are feeling the relative newness of being on the earth plane. And you have soul experiences from other dimensions that are picking away at you in an earth body that you are a bit confused about, and this is very typical of an entity like yourself.

The female entity of whom I spoke is someone who can help you in making your adjustments on the earth plane. She is nearing the end of her time in earth plane lives. She has perhaps three or four left. You are now at the point where you have many ahead of you, and you have chosen finally to light down on the plane here and begin to balance yourself and to become in tune. It is the reason for so much of your impatience.

If I appeared to be laughing at you when you first posed the question, it was not that at all. I was enjoying the vibration ~ how would you say it ~ if you can visualize a soul being wide eyed, and a child just experiencing for the first time the earth plane and seeing it with new eyes ~ "I want to achieve so much ~ I want to do it now ~ I want to get it all done." It is very refreshing to have that.

You have had four lives on the Earth since that time in Atlantis that I spoke about. They have been lives of adjustment. They were short on the earth plane. You came in and sort of looked around to see what was here ~ what you might begin to expect. You began to develop some of your creative energies. You were a singer that comes from the time in Atlantis when you sang in the streets and danced. You have a great flair for entertaining, and if you sing, you will bring joy to yourself in your soul and to those around you. Do not hide your enthusiasm about things around you. Do not try to squelch your lust for life. You need to learn how to channel it and position it within a spiritual context, and we see you achieving this very successfully.

You were in the land referred to as Crete. You took on the life of a female in that land, and you were very delicate, and it has given your soul sensitivity to the female vibration at a very early stage of your development on the earth plane. You have learned a lesson early that it takes many male vibrations many lifetimes to learn. It is a very important one. Your energy is primarily male. It is the one you feel most comfortable in. All energies must take on the vibration of both male and female as part of the growth, and you had no difficulty in the female vibration of that lifetime, and it has given you the beginnings of an understanding of the female of which, on the earth plane today, is very rare.

Be careful not to exploit it, for if you do, it will bind you to the earth plane for more lives than you would like to think about. It is beautiful what you have now. Use it within a spiritual context. Use all that you have within a spiritual context and you will grow tremendously. Use what you have without a spiritual context and you will not grow. You will accumulate what is called debt, and you will be bound to the earth plane till that debt is cleared. Now you are relatively debt free. I speak within a spiritual context.

Inquiry Concerning The Sell Of A Business

My father has been trying to sell his business. We have a prospective buyer this morning. I just want to know if he should sell his business to this man.

We do not see him selling this business to this particular entity. There is someone else who will enter the picture very shortly ~ is about to enter. It is a female vibration. This male entity is of the darkness and may, in fact ~ he is of such darkness that he may convince your father to sell this business. He is not offering a fair price for this business and he has ulterior motives behind his actions. It is not advisable that this transaction occurs. We see a very beautiful Light around this female entity who has yet to enter the picture, who will offer a price that is fair and deserving, and who has a positive outlook. We see your father recognizing the darkness of this individual. We see him torn between his desire to sell this business and his soul's desire to not entangle himself with the darkness. He must be very careful about interactions with this particular entity. It may tie him to the earth plane in ways he would not want.

It is difficult to give advice from this end ~ it is not difficult to give it ~ we hesitate to give it ~ because we see things from the spiritual context. And it is so hard when you are bound by the earth plane laws and limitations and restrictions to see beyond the material, and to see that the actions that you take in the short term, which is an earth plane life ~ we consider that the short term ~ that that short term action affects the long term. And while you may not see an imbalance in this lifetime from actions taken, if it is not a beneficial step, the imbalance is there, nonetheless, and must be balanced in some other way, in some other lifetime. Many entities choose not to see it that way. They bury their head and want to live for the moment rather than seeing the greater picture.

And so, I can merely respond by saying that this entity is of the darkness. There is somebody else of the Light. However, if he goes ahead with this entity of the darkness, the one of the Light will not appear and it will be an opportunity missed. Pray, my dear.
