A Question About The Current Economy, And The Shift

Is there anything you can say about the overall experience for the economy for this year and next year in the United States?

All must realize that from now until when The Shift occurs there will be fluctuations occurring in all that is earth plane oriented. There will be upheavals. There will be periods of rest. There will be periods of equilibrium followed by periods of tremendous upheaval. It must be viewed as an earth plane experience and not to be held onto, for all that is on the earth plane, as many of you have the understanding, is illusion presented only for learning.

The economy, as you will refer to it, will have some steadying effects during the coming time frame and then, of course, will have upheavals. There are many of you who will have difficulty with this, for it is meant for lessons to be learned for you in letting go of material elements. It is what many on the earth plane have specifically chosen by coming in at this time to rid themselves of the dependency that they have upon earth plane limitations. When The Shift occurs it will bring a new perception of value. All the systems that you know now, these financial institutions, will no longer be as you know them.

It does not mean, however, that they will disappear, that there will be a total collapse. It means that there will have occurred a most dramatic transformation, and it is difficult for most of you here on the earth plane now to even begin to perceive how that could be. As the time approaches for The Shift and as the spiritual awareness of so many of you increases, there will become an ever increasing awareness of what this life will be like on the earth plane after The Shift. You will have a greater understanding of the way things will be.

We do not want to cause panic, for there is no need for this. There need not be panic among those who are spiritually aware. There will, of course, be panic among those who are not. It is part of lessons to be learned. And so if we were to present certain information to you now, there are the majority who would not be ready to hear it and would therefore panic, but the awareness increases, and what we may not be able to tell you now, we will be able to tell you in a future time. You will be able to understand it and work with it, for it will be your working with events that create the life after The Shift.

It is not something that is simply going to happen that you will have no control over. You have no control over the actual shifting of the earth, but it will be up to those who stay after The Shift to begin the rebuilding process, and to bring about the transformation, to implement that which needs to be done. There will be greater, far greater awareness and abilities. Many of you will have, while The Shift occurs, sudden soul memories of the time in Atlantis ten thousand years ago during the final destruction of the powers and the abilities that you had and the knowledge that you had during that lifetime, and you will use it. You will not be afraid to block it, and this issue that you raise concerning the economy will all be a part of a new transformation.

It is to be anticipated with great joy for what occurs now, and what exists now as a financial structure in the world is, as can be predicted over the eons, out of control. This occurred in Atlantis also, the most recent destruction. It occurred approximately six thousand years ago when another cleansing occurred. The cleansings, as you know, occur anywhere from every four to six to ten thousand years apart and, as you may know, many of you, it does not take much time to rebuild and get back to the way things were when the time of cleansing occurred, and this is as it has always been and as it will always be. It is to be looked upon as an opportunity, for many of you are privileged to be here during this time frame, to accelerate your learning.

As I have cautioned before, you must be very careful of what you do not do, as well as what you do, between now and The Shift. As I recall, there was an individual who asked if it was all right to stop paying bills. Of course, my answer to this is in the negative. All that you do is, remember, for lessons, and the way in which you respond to the turmoil that will occur will not only be lessons for you that need to be undertaken, but also will help to teach those around you and help them to learn their lessons, for not all are as strong as others, and while there may be the will to learn a lesson, especially where money is concerned, there are many who have a weakness and would look to others for a strength in learning this lesson and being taught.

It does not mean that you must live your lives in poverty in order to be spiritually aware. There are some who have been made caretakers of wealth for very specific reasons to be learned or to be taught. And while it may appear that there is much abuse by many of the wealth that they have, you must not judge, and you must see this as what must be, and only concern yourself with your own abilities and reactions where money is concerned.

As I have said many times I am not here to make predictions. I will not tell you, for example, if this thing called the stock market will go up or down and when it will do this. This would interfere with our mission for it would interfere with free will. We will tell you that there will be much upheaval, but nothing that will be so catastrophic that it will destroy you, and if you lose all that you have, look at this as lessons. And if you gain tremendous amounts of money, view this as lessons also and analyze what it is you must do as a result of the loss or the gain.

Do Not Be Judgemental About Another's Beliefs Of Their Own Monetary Issues

My own personal belief for the days to come are a very conservative approach. I feel that any debts should be paid off and that you should be saving for whatever is to come, and that is the philosophy that I am trying to follow at this time, not expanding or borrowing or acquiring more property.

And that is good for your belief system and for what it is you need to learn and to teach. What I caution all of you on is being judgemental of those around you who may take a different view or behave in a different manner. Do you understand what I say to you? There will be some who will be what might appear to be reckless. You must not judge them or cast aspersions upon them. You must not also do the same for those who might hold onto money or possessions. Remember that all of you are at very different levels in your path toward Oneness. You all have very different things to learn as well as to teach, and your missions vary quite a bit for your time in this incarnation, so you must go with what you feel your Higher Self tells you, for that is all that is truth for you, for it is your Higher Self telling you what it is you must do. Do not be influenced by someone else's behavior or their attempts to tell you what to do. This is a Universal Truth and one that has been passed into all of the earth plane records over the eons.

Is There A Chance Of A World War III, As It Relates To The Shift?

Is there a chance of a third world war? I have read this in many books that talk about The Shift, and they say prior to The Shift that there will be a war. Is this possible or probable?

You must realize that there is tremendous tension on the earth plane now among souls, and as time approaches for The Shift, tensions will increase, and the forces of the dark and the Light that we have spoken of before will be gathering their strength, and we do say, though, that what you refer to as a world war is highly unlikely given the way in which events are unfolding now. There is, however, a strong probability of continued aggravations in spots on the earth as it exists now. They may accelerate in some places because of the tensions between the Souls involved.

As we see it, there will be no destruction by the nuclear capabilities that have been learned in this life. What is very probable is that when The Shift occurs, as I mentioned a while ago, much of the knowledge that many have on the earth plane from Atlantis will be renewed, and there will be an understanding of a far greater capability than this nuclear capability that is primitive compared to what was known in Atlantis ten thousand years ago. It is difficult for many to understand, especially those among you of the scientific community, that there is a far greater knowledge than currently is known, and it is a peaceful knowledge, one that will create a harmony if used correctly. This is our hope. It is a very high probability. The nuclear threat will remain until The Shift, but it will not be destructive in the ways in which many of you might fear. However, the threat alone instills much terror among large segments currently incarnated.

The Question Of Being Drawn to Florida, Knowing It Is Not Safe For The Shift

Is there any land mass in Florida that will survive The Shift? I know it is a precarious place to be, but I seem to still feel drawn there.

There will be a period of time between now and The Shift which will be beneficial for many entities to be in this land mass known as Florida. However, for those who will survive The Shift, who will stay after The Shift, they will know enough ahead of time what is the appropriate time for them to seek other land masses. There are many now on the earth who are where they need to be now and will stay until The Shift and after The Shift. There are many who, because of the mission they have chosen, and you are one of these, my dear, who will travel to various places so that your light can be of benefit to those who are in darkness, and to help to increase the spiritual vibrations.

There are some land masses that we have indicated before are definitely going to be safe and others that are not going to be safe at all, and then of course those that we are waiting for the final verdict for it is, what you might say, on the borderline, and so you must make your own judgements, my dear.

Are There Different Levels Of The Higher Self Consciousness?

You mention quite frequently that we should seek answers from our Higher Self. When we are talking about Higher Self, are we referring to the various levels of consciousness that we may attain, and so we might have different levels of Higher Self?

Yes, indeed. The consciousness of all energy forms has unlimited levels and are directly connected to The Universal Consciousness. And when we refer to the Higher Self, we are referring to that level at which you are most able to attain given the point of your own growth, so that your Higher Self may be at a different level than someone else's Higher Self and that your Higher Self becomes higher as you reach that Higher Self. It increases so that you never reach the end of your Higher Self until you become One with The Creative Force.

What it means, though, is that when you are able to reach a certain level of Higher Self, you are able to directly connect to The Universal Consciousness at the level at which your Self has attained, so that there are limitations as to how much of The Universal Consciousness you are able to connect to. The higher your Self is, the greater your abilities to connect. You see, it is done in a very planned, organized manner, for the knowledge that is available to all from The Universe is so complex that you are only given the information that you are able to understand. And so when your Higher Self is at a particular level of understanding, you then are given the abilities to connect at that level of The Universal Consciousness to gain the information that you would be able to assimilate so that it would not blow your circuits. And as you are able to assimilate a certain level of information, and are comfortable with it of course, your Self seeks higher knowledge, and as you do this, you connect with higher levels of The Universal Consciousness.

So the continuing practicing of meditation will achieve Higher Levels of Consciousness?

Yes, indeed. It is a neverending process.

Is it possible to bring these Higher Levels of Consciousness back into our waking consciousness?

Most definitely. There are many among you who operate at very highly altered states of consciousness, and while they are giving the appearance of being, shall we say, very earth bound, or at least a part of what goes on, on the earth plane, they have awarenesses that are far greater than you can imagine, and in the waking state and in the non-meditative state.

There are several of you in this gathering who have this ability. It can be quite disconcerting to many because what begins to occur is a feeling of what you might call Schizophrenia, where you are operating at an earth plane level, however having conversations with The Universal Consciousness simultaneously. And for some now on the earth plane, this has become a very common occurrence. You will not know of these people unless you also are experiencing it, and then you will connect with those who also are experiencing this and who have the abilities to receive information and to know where they are receiving this information. As they speak to you, their consciousness is at a very high level.

Helping Someone Disperse The Darkness Surrounding Them ~ Waith Gives A Technique

Are you familiar with (Name withheld)? And if so, how can we help? I received a message that three of us should send Light and energy, that she had a very negative force around her.

This entity is being attacked by those of the darkness. They are trying to use her to get to others, as she is a most receptive vehicle and has influences beyond what you might think, and she is much sought after by those of the darkness as a catalyst in the battle that occurs now and will occur in greater intensity as The Shift approaches. I have mentioned in earlier sessions of the battles that occur, and they are waged in many degrees and with as many entities as those of the dark can gather.

There are many entities now on the earth plane who are in this situation that you describe who are going to be targets and could be conductors of negative energy if not protected. It would be wise to have some type of gathering where you bring together all of your positive energies. One very useful technique in dispelling the darkness from an entity who has been targeted as a conductor, is to form a circle and hold hands in the circle and meditate. There is no need for chanting or anything of this nature, but to simply all meditate and focus your energies on a ball of White Light, and as group energies that increase this ball of White Light, so that you envision the Light completely filling the circle in which you have formed. And this will help in the protection and the dispersion of the darkness. You must do this periodically, for those entities who are conductors will be under continual attack and will need assistance. For reasons that I will not go into now, these entities are very vulnerable, and there are reasons why, which relate to the growth and the path of the particular entity and are of no concern to those around except to the entity.

Try this technique and do this for a period of time, perhaps one earth plane year, and by that time it may then be unnecessary to give her the protection. This information is applicable to all who might find themselves in a similar situation, so it is given out as information from The Universe that is readily understandable for the basic levels that exist now among most of you.

The Shift Of The Earth ~ The Task Of Finding Community Land

The other morning, I was awakened at about 2:00 a.m. by someone telling me very loudly to look for land. I was wondering if you might know anything about this.

Yes. There are several entities in the surrounding areas here who are being asked to be helpers in looking for land for a very specific purpose in preparation for The Shift. Remember that the geographic area in which you are all located now is safe for The Shift and remember too that when The Shift occurs, it does not mean that there will be a free-for-all, that what belongs to someone now may not belong to them. We get into all the issues of attachment of earthly possessions.

The land that will be used as a focal point for the transformation after The Shift needs to be determined at some time in the near future, and there will be many communities where there will be patches of land for large groups of entities to live together. And so you are being told, my dear, that the function that you are serving at this point in time is to find some land within this geographic area that is safe. And I have given that information. It is on the record as to that which is safe surrounding this area of Enfield. There is no pressure for you to find it tomorrow. You are simply being informed that you are selected to be the finder of the land.

There will be others among you who will be asked to do this also for there will be many communities, groupings, that will be. We will have much more to say on this as the time progresses. What is occurring now is simply the beginnings of the consciousness raising, if you would like to use that phrase, of all the energies who now are in this safe area and who might come to this safe area, the gathering of the Souls and a rekindling of experiences from the past, a reacquaintance, and a reunion. So many of you are learning you have had shared experiences with many others from especially the Atlantean times ten thousand years ago. And you need to take this time frame to feel comfortable with the remembrances, to gather a sense of community at a spiritual level, so that you all may be able to live in harmony at a physical level.

I have a question in my mind whether a certain section of Connecticut is safe or not. Have you heard of the Moodus area, or East Haddam?

This area to which you refer, as we can see it now, is not going to be safe. There is a possibility that portions of it will be safe. The land masses that will sink into the ocean will. The definition of what you call the shoreline will change drastically in the area in which you are now living and that the mileage that I gave some time ago will be the basic shoreline. There is a possibility that these parts of which you speak may be a part of this newly defined coastal line. It will be most jagged. It will not be even. I think this is the word I might use. I am trying to translate to you an image.

I do know that you often hear about the Moodus noises in that area. There is a fault line that goes through there, and there have been slight earthquakes. And that would cause a very jagged edge.

A Question From Someone Who Is Experiencing New Levels Of Consciousness

Several weeks ago in meditation, something very strong came to me. I have never felt that strength before. I was answering questions for people. The answers were just coming from nowhere. The feeling, it was so wonderful, it lasted for days. I do not know who it was or what it was, but I would like to know, to bring it back. I have never experienced anything like it before.

You, my dear, were experiencing a very tremendous jump in your level of consciousness. And what happened is that you went from one level of Higher Self to a very high level of Higher Self, and you then connected into a very different level of The Universal Consciousness. And the information that you were receiving was from that new level, and you were connecting with the Universal Mind and able at the same time to transmit that information.

There is no reason why this will not continue as long as you allow yourself to let it happen. You will be at this level for some time, as it is all very new to you and you have much to learn at this level. It is a most beautiful event that has occurred, and the feeling that you have is normal for this kind of event. Many on the plane now are having these kinds of experiences, some not knowing quite what it is. And remember that as you are at a particular level, it may not be as high a level as someone else. However, when you move from one level to the next, you will experience certain types of emotions and perceptual changes in the world around you, and you will find that you have new knowledge and wonder where it comes from. And this is what is happening.

When one reaches or experiences a different level of consciousness, a Higher Level, do they bounce back and forth between these various levels sometimes until they feel comfortable with that?

Yes, most definitely. This is why we say that you are only given the information that you are able to assimilate, and that you do bounce back and forth until you have reached the state of equilibrium. And then what occurs is what has occurred with this entity where once the bouncing back and forth has settled down, you go into this High Level and you remain there, and you then do what needs to be done to feel comfortable at that level, knowing that you have already gone through the vacillation, if you will, for when you are seeking Higher Levels, you seek it, and there may be a bit of timidity there. You might go back to a level where you feel safe. However, as you truly grow and want to expand, you are not happy at the safe level. You want to move, to expand and to grow.

Regarding Atlantis, Were There Three Destructions?

There were three destructions of the landmass known as Atlantis, the last one occurring approximately ten thousand years ago, give or take a few hundred years or so. Prior to that time one occurred approximately twenty thousand years ago and another occurred approximately thirty thousand years ago. There is approximately between ten and twelve and fifteen thousand years between each destruction.

There is much that has been given to you about Atlantis. The entity, Edgar Cayce, one of his missions in the information that he was giving was to prepare those on the earth plane for an understanding of Atlantis so that there would be an understanding of The Shift. He performed tremendous inroads of understanding and made the knowledge of Atlantis common among those of the earth plane, and there is not much that we can add that has not already been given through his readings.

What we might add for those of you where there are specific readings and sessions will be your particular experiences in Atlantis. Remember that there is a tremendous amount of time that this civilization existed and that many, many currently incarnated on the earth plane have had many experiences at different times in the different phases of Atlantis. The most recent destruction of Atlantis, of course, was of a civilization that was so highly advanced that it was beyond the comprehension of most on the earth plane to understand the powers and the abilities and the misuse of the power. So, as we have our individual sessions, and our smaller sessions, you will gain information about life in Atlantis as it relates to yourself and your own growth and the path that you follow.
